INTRODUCTION TO THE PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

Nature of the Public Accounts

The Public Accounts of Canada is the annual financial report of the Government of Canada and is prepared by the Receiver General for Canada as required by Section 55 of the Financial Administration Act.

The report covers the fiscal year of the Government, which ends on March 31 and is prepared from data contained in the accounts of Canada and from more detailed records maintained in departments and agencies. The accounts of Canada is the centralized record of the Government's financial transactions maintained by the Receiver General in which the transactions of all departments and agencies are summarized. Each department is responsible for the accuracy of its accounts and maintains detailed records of the transactions in those accounts.

The report covers the financial transactions of the Government during the year. In certain cases, parliamentary authority to undertake the transactions was provided by legislation approved in earlier years. The report also includes the financial statements of those Crown corporations and other bodies whose accounts are maintained separately from the accounts of Canada. The financial year of a number of these corporations and other bodies is the calendar year rather than the fiscal year of the Government.

Format of the Public Accounts

The Public Accounts is produced in three volumes.

Volume I

Volume I presents a summary and analysis of the financial transactions of the Government. The content of the sections of Volume I can be summarized as follows:

SECTION 1: Summary statements of the financial transactions of the Government of Canada on both a Public Accounts and an Extended National Accounts basis;

SECTION 2: The audited financial statements of the Government of Canada, prepared in accordance with Section 55 of the Financial Administration Act;

SECTION 3: The observations of the Auditor General on the Financial Statements;

SECTION 4: A review of budgetary revenue;

SECTION 5: A review of budgetary expenditure;

SECTION 6: An analysis of non-budgetary and foreign exchange transactions;

SECTION 7: A summary of the financing operations of the Government, the unmatured debt, and the cash position;

SECTION 8: An analysis of asset and liability accounts;

SECTION 9: Supplementary information, part of which is required by the Financial Administration Act.

Volume II

Volume II presents the financial operations of the government, segregated by department. It contains two distinct types of information: (a) financial operations of individual departments and their associated agencies, and (b) additional information and analysis.

(a) DEPARTMENTAL FINANCIAL OPERATIONS

In a fashion similar to the Estimates, Volume II uses a uniform set of statements to present each department's financial operations. In most respects the level of detail is the same as in the Estimates, and provides the following information:

(i) Budgetary Appropriations and Expenditures

This is the principal departmental statement. It is a summary of the use by departments of the budgetary authority given to them by Parliament in appropriation acts and other statutes. It displays, by program:

- The wording of the relevant budgetary appropriations;
- The amount authorized under each appropriation;
- The total use made during the year of the authorized amounts;
- Amounts of unexpended balances (amounts lapsed); or in rare instances, amounts over-expended; and
- Total budgetary expenditures for the previous year.

(ii) Total Cost of Programs

This table shows the total calculated cost for each program by adding to budgetary expenditure the values of services provided by other departments, and of accommodation provided by the reporting department, and by deducting non-tax receipts credited to revenue.

The total calculated program cost is also reflected in the Estimates and in the Public Accounts in the "Programs by Activity" table.

(iii) Programs by Activity

This is a comparison of budgetary appropriations with actual expenditures and the imputed costs and revenues referred to in (ii). The table displays total program expenditures by activity and type of vote, and total cost of programs by type of vote. It is related to the "Programs by Activities" table displayed in the Estimates.

(iv) Grants, Contributions and Other Transfer Payments

This table displays details of amounts appropriated for grants, contributions and other transfer payments, by class of recipients and by program, and the payments.

(v) Net Expenditure by Program and Standard Object

This table presents costs by standard object and relates to the "Objects of Expenditure" table shown in the Estimates.

(vi) Revenues

Each department displays summary and detailed statements of revenues collected as part of its operations.

(vii) Non-budgetary Appropriations and Net Payments

This table displays the use by departments of the non-budgetary authority given to them by Parliament in appropriation acts and other statutes.

(viii) Revolving Funds

The commercial orientation of a revolving fund is reflected in the balance sheet and statement of operations, or income and expenditure, required each year. A revolving fund's minimum goal is the recovery of cost, and most commercial accounting conventions are used to measure that cost.

As a revolving fund uses full accrual accounting and the government does not, a reconciliation statement is frequently necessary to explain the difference between the advance to the revolving fund included in the Government's Statement of Assets and Liabilities in Section 2 of Volume I, and the liability for the advance shown in the revolving fund's balance sheet.

(ix) Other Organizations

To further the objectives of the Government and of departments, various boards, agencies, commissions and accounts have been created by appropriation acts and other legislation. Financial statements for these organizations and accounts are also shown.

Volume II also contains details of the transactions and balances in several major accounts which are maintained by specific departments or other agencies on behalf of the Government. These include:

- Finance
 - Exchange Fund Account
- Manpower and Immigration
 - Unemployment Insurance Account
- National Defence
 - Canadian Forces Superannuation Account
 - Regular Forces Death Benefit Account
- National Health and Welfare
 - Canada Pension Plan Account
- Parliament
 - Members of Parliament Retiring Allowances Account
 - Supplementary Retirement Benefit Account for Members of Parliament
- Solicitor General
 - Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Account
- Treasury Board
 - Public Service Superannuation Account
 - Public Service Death Benefit Account
 - Supplementary Retirement Benefit Account

(b) ADDITIONAL INFORMATION AND ANALYSIS

Further details of certain outlays are provided, in Volume II, to supplement the statements already presented. This supplementary information includes:

- Accounts receivable and deletions (Section 30);
- Professional and special services (Section 31);
- Construction and acquisition of land, buildings, machinery and equipment (Section 32);
- Payments of damage claims, ex gratia payments, federal court awards, and nugatory payments (Section 33);
- Selected miscellaneous payments and federal-provincial shared-cost programs by province (Section 34);
- Grants, contributions and other transfer payments (Section 35);
- Further details of expenditures by standard object (Section 36); and
- Miscellaneous statements by department (Section 37).

Volume III

Volume III of the Public Accounts of Canada contains the financial statements of Crown corporations which are permitted by legislation to keep their own accounts. These are Schedule C and D (agency and proprietary) corporations, as well as two other agencies, the Bank of Canada and the Canadian Wheat Board which, although not designated as Crown corporations, act as agents of Her Majesty. The activities of Schedule B (departmental) corporations are reported by the responsible departments in Volume II, either under departmental budgetary expenditures or in separate reports.

Changes to the Form and Content of the Public Accounts

The Public Accounts is by no means a static report. The form of this financial report has evolved over the years to meet changing conditions and, more recently, to implement the recommendations of the Report on the Study of the Accounts of Canada.

The Study of the Accounts of Canada was an inter-departmental study undertaken in May of 1973 by representatives of the Treasury Board, the Department of Finance and the Department of Supply and Services, to review the purposes, principles and practices which should govern the form of the accounts of Canada. In its report to the House of Commons dated March 9, 1976, the Standing Committee on Public Accounts recommended that the 41 recommendations included in the Report on the Study of the Accounts of Canada should be implemented as soon as technically possible. The implementation of the recommendations was initiated in 1976-77 and is continuing.

Changes have been made in Volume I of the 1977-78 Public Accounts in order to implement the recommendations of the Report on the Study of the Accounts of Canada:

- Sections 1 and 2 have been modified to provide consistency between the Statements of Transactions and the Statement of Assets and Liabilities;
- A new table has been introduced in Section 9 to show actual use of statutory appropriations in comparison to the forecast use appearing in the Estimates;
- A new table has been introduced in Section 9 with details in Volume II, to show the use of non-budgetary appropriations.

In addition to the changes resulting from the Study of the Accounts of Canada, other changes have been made:

- The supplementary financial statements, appearing in Section 5 of Volume I of the 1976-77 Public Accounts, have been deleted;
- The departmental summaries appearing in Volume II have been deleted;
- More information on grants and contributions is provided in Volume II;
- Note 1 to the audited financial statements appearing in Section 2 has been expanded to provide more information on the significant accounting policies and practices governing the preparation and presentation of the financial statements.

INTRODUCTION

In this section, the financial transactions of the Government of Canada are set out in summary form, with comparative figures for the previous four years. The financial transactions are first presented according to the accounting principles explained in Note 1 of Section 2 of this volume, and referred to as the Public Accounts presentation; the second presentation is on the National Income and Expenditure Accounts basis, extended to encompass other financial transactions affecting the Consolidated Revenue Fund. This second form of presentation is hereafter referred to as the Extended National Accounts presentation.

This section was first introduced in the Public Accounts for the year ended March 31, 1977. Its inclusion conforms to the recommendation in the "Report on the Study of the Accounts of Canada" that there be a standard form of reporting the Summary Statements of federal Government financial transactions in official publications. The form of the statements, and the extension of the traditional National Income and Expenditure Accounts basis of presentation, also reflect recommendations of this study.

This section is intended to provide an overview of the Government's financial operations both on the Public Accounts basis and on the Extended National Accounts basis. The Public Accounts presentation reflects the accounting procedures and conventions which have been adopted in providing Parliament with an accounting of the source and use of financial resources. The current transactions block of the Extended National Accounts presentation is designed primarily to facilitate economic analysis of the federal Government sector on a basis consistent with that used in measuring income and expenditure flows in the economy as a whole. The remaining blocks show the relation between the traditional budget balance on the National Accounts basis and the Government's overall financial requirements, debt transactions and cash position.

Public Accounts presentation

The "Summary Statement of Transactions" table provides aggregate data on the major categories of transactions under four main headings: budgetary, non-budgetary, foreign exchange and unmatured debt. The resulting cash position at the end of the period is also shown.

This form of presentation is broadly consistent with the tables presented in the Budget Speech, the presentation in the Department of Finance's Economic Review and the Statement of Financial Operations published each month in the Canada Gazette, and is compatible with the form of presentation in other sections of the Public Accounts.

It should be noted that, in general, figures on budgetary expenditure in the Public Accounts presentation of this section have not been adjusted to take account of changes in departmental responsibilities which may have occurred, thus components are not strictly comparable from one year to the next. The one exception to this generalization occurs in the treatment of old age security transactions. The status of these transactions changed as of July 1, 1975 following amendments to the Old Age Security Act. To provide consistent historical series for total budgetary revenue, expenditure and non-budgetary transactions, the figures in the tables of this section have been adjusted to treat old age security transactions as budgetary throughout, i.e., the pre-July 1, 1975 record has been adjusted to follow current practice.

Extended National Accounts presentation

The presentation of the Government's financial transactions on an Extended National Accounts basis in the Public Accounts was first introduced for the year ended March 31, 1977. This form of presentation as earlier noted complies with the recommendation of the Report on the Study of the Accounts of Canada, and is consistent with the tables presented in the Budget Speech.

As in the Public Accounts presentation, the transactions are categorized under four main headings: the traditional National Income and Expenditure Accounts which are referred to herein as current transactions, loans and other transactions, foreign exchange and unmatured debt transactions. The resulting cash position at the end of the period is also shown. It may be noted that starting with the line entitled "Financial requirements (excluding foreign exchange)", the Extended National Accounts presentation is identical to the Public Accounts presentation.

The total for loans and other transactions will differ from the non-budgetary transactions in the Public Accounts presentation due in part to differences in coverage. Loans to certain agencies such as Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, as well as advances to revolving funds, are excluded in arriving at the total of loans and other transactions on the Extended National Accounts presentation, as transactions of these agencies and revolving funds, are included in current transactions. Similarly, the receipts and disbursements of Government pension and social security accounts, such as the Unemployment Insurance Account, are included in current transactions whereas they appear in the non-budgetary sector in the Public Accounts presentation. In determining the surplus or deficit of current transactions on a National Accounts basis, certain revenue items, such as corporate income taxes, are reflected on an accrual as opposed to a cash basis. The loans and other transactions section includes the adjusting entry required to convert from the accrual basis of revenue and expenditure to a cash basis.

SUMMARY STATEMENT OF TRANSACTIONS—PUBLIC ACCOUNTS PRESENTATION

Total financial requirements, including foreign exchange transactions, amounted to $7,263 million for the year ended March 31, 1978. The budgetary deficit of $10,036 million was offset by $1,766 million of non-budgetary transactions and $1,007 million of foreign exchange transactions. As a result of these requirements and a $8,172 million increase in unmatured debt, cash balances rose by $909 million to $4,506 million at March 31, 1978, as compared to $3,597 million at the beginning of the year.

I. Budgetary transactions

A. Revenue

Total budgetary revenue increased by $125 million, or 0.4%, in 1977-78. With declines in the personal income tax and the oil export charge, total tax revenue declined by $195 million from the previous year. Higher postal revenue, reflecting recent rate increases, was an important component of the growth of non-tax revenue.

In spite of a 10.9% increase in total wages and salaries in 1977, personal income tax revenue declined by $1,180 million over the previous year. This revenue decline reflected a number of tax system changes which more than offset the impact of the growth in the tax base. The current year marks the first full year of the revised federal-provincial arrangements whereby the provincial governments receive a larger share of total income tax revenue than in previous years. Personal income tax revenue was also reduced by recent discretionary measures. These measures include the federal tax credit of $50 per dependent child and the $100 increase in the employment expense deduction announced in the March 31, 1977 Budget, and the $100 increase in the minimum federal tax credit, from $200 to $300, announced in the October 20, 1977 Economic and Fiscal Statement.

Corporate income tax revenue increased by 8.4% over the previous year. Corporate profits on a National Accounts basis grew by 10.1% and there was a significant increase in resource sector liabilities. However, measures introduced in the March 31, 1977 Budget, primarily the extension of the investment tax credit and its expansion to encourage regional growth and tax relief in respect of business inventories, served to reduce growth of revenue from this source.

In total, indirect taxes increased by $486 million, or 5.6% over the previous year. The increase reflects the growth in the tax bases for sales taxes and customs import duties of 12.7% and 10.3% respectively. Excise duties increased by 2.0% while the remaining indirect taxes, excluding the oil export charge, remained virtually unchanged. The decline in oil export revenue reflects both the narrowing of the gap between the domestic and international price of crude petroleum on which the charge is based, and declining crude petroleum exports.

Non-tax revenue increased by $320 million, with higher postal revenue accounting for the bulk of the increase. Postal rate increases which came into effect March 1, 1977 are estimated to have increased postal revenue by $105 million.

B. Expenditure

The rate of increase in budgetary expenditure continued to decline in 1977-78. Budgetary expenditure increased by 9.9% over 1976-77, compared with increases of 14.8%, 16.2% and 28.0% in 1976-77, 1975-76 and 1974-75 respectively.

A major change took place in federal-provincial fiscal arrangements in 1977-78 which resulted in significantly lower federal expenditures on federal-provincial shared cost programs. Under the new Federal-Provincial Fiscal Arrangements and Established Programs Financing Act, the federal contribution in respect of medicare, hospital insurance and post-secondary education consists of a larger number of transferred tax points and lower cash payments. Primarily as a result of the arrangements, medicare expenditures decreased by $406 million to $598 million in 1977-78 from $1,004 million in 1976-77, and hospital insurance expenditures decreased by $368 million to $1,662 million from $2,030 million in 1976-77. Post-secondary education payments to the provinces (PSE), on the other hand, increased by $451 million to $1,100 million in 1977-78 from $649 million in 1976-77. Under the old arrangements, provincial PSE entitlements were reduced by the full value of 4.357 personal income tax points and one corporate income tax point which had previously been transferred to the provinces for this purpose. Under the new arrangements, the larger total number of points transferred are in effect allocated among PSE, hospital insurance and medicare. The extended health care services program which was introduced as part of the new arrangements, provides provinces with financial assistance for lower-cost alternatives to services which were previously cost-shared under the Hospital Insurance and Diagnostic Services Act, the Medical Care Act and the Canada Assistance Plan. Expenditures under this new program amounted to $466 million in 1977-78.

Expenditure increases in the federal-provincial area occurred in the equalization program which increased by $302 million to $2,399 million in 1977-78 from $2,097 million in 1976-77; in contracting-out payments to Quebec which rose by $97 million to $340 million in 1977-78 from $243 million in 1976-77; and in the new reciprocal taxation program which cost $47 million in 1977-78. These federal-provincial programs which accounted for over 15% of total budgetary expenditure in 1977-78 also accounted for over 15% of the total increase in budgetary expenditure.

Public debt charges increased by $829 million to $5,550 million in 1977-78 from $4,721 million in 1976-77. This increase was largely due to the $8,172 million increase in unmatured debt outstanding during the year. Public debt charges accounted for 12.9% of total budgetary expenditure in 1977-78 and accounted for 21.4% of the year-over-year increase in budgetary expenditure.

Old age security payments, including guaranteed income supplements and spouses' allowances increased by $424 million to $4,861 million in 1977-78 from $4,437 million in 1976-77. Approximately $336 million of this increase was due to the automatic indexation of payments. The balance of the increase arises from the growth in the recipient population.

Family allowance expenditures increased by $142 million to $2,122 million in 1977-78 from $1,980 million in 1976-77. This increase results from the combination of indexing which accounts for $157 million and a reduction of $15 million due to the decrease in the number of recipients.

The local initiatives and Canada works programs increased by $123 million to $298 million in 1977-78 from $175 million in 1976-77.

A number of loan write-offs were made in 1977-78. The write-off of a loan to Atomic Energy of Canada Limited consequent to the transfer to Energy, Mines and Resources of the Nelson River transmission facilities, increased expenditure by $197 million in 1977-78, and the forgiveness of loans in respect of the Gentilly I prototype reactor increased expenditure by a further $87 million. The write-off of loans resulting from the accumulated deficits to March 31, 1977, of the Canadian Dairy Commission also increased budgetary expenditure by $160 million. Total expenditures of the Canadian International Development Agency increased by $353 million to $821 million in 1977-78 from $468 million in 1976-77, including $232 million forgiveness of loans to less developed countries. The write-off of loans amounting to $676 million, while increasing budgetary expenditure, does not increase financial requirements but rather decreases outstanding loans.

Other departments where significant increases over 1976-77 were recorded are: National Defence, $400 million or 11.9%; Indian Affairs and Northern Development, $154 million or 15.2%; Transport, $153 million or 11.6%; and the Post Office, $122 million or 10.9%.

Contributions by the Government to the Unemployment Insurance Commission (UIC) decreased by $349 million to $1,379 million in 1977-78 from $1,728 million in 1976-77. These contributions are in respect of benefits paid by the UIC in 1976. The Government's cost is related to the excess of the unemployment rate in 1976 over the eight year average of the unemployment rate which equalled 5.6%. The Government's cost was previously based on the excess of the unemployment rate over 4%. This revision to the method of calculating the Government's contribution results in a saving of approximately $500 million.

The phasing-out of the 1972 revenue guarantee program resulted in reductions in expenditure of $343 million to $600 million in 1977-78 from $943 million in 1976-77. The Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce expended $167 million in 1976-77 for the purchase of Hopper cars, there were no such disbursements in 1977-78.

Figures for 1974-75 to 1977-78 reflect the allocation to individual department of their share of employer contributions to the Canada Pension Plan, the Quebec Pension Plan and the Public Service Death Benefit Account. For 1973-74, these amounts were charged to Treasury Board and are included in other departmental expenditure.

II. Non-budgetary transactions

A. Loans, investments and advances

Requirements for loans, investments and advances declined by $954 million to $1,217 million in 1977-78 from $2,171 million in 1976-77. The largest single element in this decline was the write-off of $676 million of loans to budgetary expenditure. Loans to less developed countries amounting to $232 million were forgiven, and loans to the Canadian Dairy Commission, amounting to $160 million, together with loans to Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, amounting to $284 million, were written off.

Loans to lending institutions were down $478 million from the previous year in large part because of a reduction of $305 million in the loan requirements of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation reflecting a shift towards budgetary grants and subsidies and away from loans. With the Export Development Corporation relying more on private sector financing of its activities, loans to it from the Consolidated Revenue Fund declined by $118 million and loans to the Federal Business Development Bank declined $66 million as a result of a lower financing demand by the business sector.

Other loan requirements provided some offset to these reductions. Air Canada's net repayments amounted to only $3 million in 1977-78 compared to $83 million in 1976-77 and Canadian National Railways' loan requirements rose by $59 million to $99 million in 1977-78.

B. Annuity, insurance and pension accounts

The annuity, insurance and pension accounts provided a source of $1,626 million in 1977-78 compared to a source of $2,368 million in 1976-77 for a reduction of $742 million. The Unemployment Insurance Account which provided a source of $591 million in 1976-77 gave rise to a requirement of $380 million in 1977-78. This swing of $971 million resulted principally from an increase in benefit payments and a reduction in the Government's contribution. The three superannuation accounts on the other hand provided a source of $1,749 million or $169 million above the 1976-77 level. The other pension and annuity accounts provided a net source of $257 million in 1977-78 compared to only $197 million in 1976-77.

C. Other transactions

Other transactions provided a source of $1,357 million in 1977-78 compared to $704 million in 1976-77. This category includes entries which are subject to wide fluctuations such as accounts payable, cash in transit and outstanding cheques. The accounts payable and accrued salaries category gave rise to a requirement of $521 million in 1977-78 compared to a source of $623 million in 1976-77. On the other hand, outstanding cheques, warrants and money orders provided a source of $632 million in 1977-78 compared to a requirement of $361 million in 1976-77, for a net change of $993 million.

Total foreign exchange transactions provided a source of $1,007 million during 1977-78 compared to a source of $1,122 million in 1976-77.

IV. Unmatured debt transactions

Marketable bonds payable in Canadian currency increased by $3,439 million, Treasury bills increased by $3,040 million and net sales of Canada savings bonds amounted to $1,707 million. In total, unmatured debt payable in Canadian currency increased by $8,172 million compared to an increase of $4,812 million in 1976-77.

V. Cash balances at end of period

Financial requirements, including foreign exchange transactions amounted to $7,263 million, while there was an increase of $8,172 million in unmatured debt transactions. As a result, cash balances rose to $4,506 million at March 31, 1978 from $3,597 million at March 31, 1977.

SUMMARY STATEMENT OF TRANSACTIONS—EXTENDED NATIONAL ACCOUNTS PRESENTATION

The National Income and Expenditure Accounts were developed as a basis for economic analysis of income and expenditure flows in the economy as a whole. The concepts and definitions applied to the Government sector are consistent with those applied to other sectors and follow international practices developed under the aegis of the United Nations. The economic nature of a transaction is the determining factor in its classification within the National Accounts framework. The Extended National Accounts present, in addition to the traditional National Accounts revenue, expenditure and balance shown here under the heading "Current transactions", the items which account for the difference between the National Accounts budget balance and total Public Accounts financial requirements.

In 1977-78, current transactions resulted in a deficit of $9,331 million and loans and other transactions amounted to a source of $1,061 million. Foreign exchange transactions provided a source of $1,007 million and unmatured debt transactions provided a source of $8,172 million. As was previously noted, foreign exchange and unmatured debt transactions are identical to those reported in the Public Accounts presentation.

I. Current transactions

A. Revenue

Reflecting, for the most part, the same factors which influenced revenue on the Public Accounts basis, total revenue on the National Accounts basis declined by $397 million in the current year. The decline in direct taxes, from persons and corporations, more than offset the revenue growth of investment income and indirect taxes.

Discretionary measures were a major contributing factor in the downturn of total direct taxes. The dependent child tax credit and the increased employment expense deduction introduced in the March 31, 1977 Budget and the $100 increase in the minimum tax credit announced in the October 20, 1977 statement were significant factors contributing to the decline in personal income tax revenue. Similarly, the investment tax credit extension, tax relief in respect of business inventories and other measures introduced in the March 31, 1977 Budget were important factors in the downturn in corporate liabilities.

Indirect taxes increased 5.7% in 1977-78. Within this broad category, customs import duties and sales and other excise taxes increased 10.2% and 10.6% respectively. Receipts from the oil export charge declined by 30.4% while receipts from the gasoline tax remained virtually unchanged from the previous year.

Investment income rose 15.9% in 1977-78. Significant contributions to this increase were: interest on bank balances which increased 11.7%, interest on loans and advances which increased 19.1% and profits remitted by Government owned enterprises which rose by 14.5% over the preceding year.

B. Expenditure

Expenditure increased by $4,928 million or 12.2% in 1977-78, compared to increases of 10.5% and 18.5% in 1976-77 and 1975-76 respectively.

The $1,602 million or 13.4% increase in transfers to persons accounts for 32.5% of the total increase in 1977-78. This compares with rates of increase of 8.4% and 20.6% for 1976-77 and 1975-76 respectively. The largest increase in this category occurred in unemployment insurance benefits which increased by $711 million or 20.6% as the unemployment rate rose to 8.3% in 1977-78 from 7.4% in 1976-77. Following an increase of only $19 million or 1% in 1976-77, family allowance payments rose by $144 million or 7.3% in 1977-78. This increase resulted from the reinstatement of indexing of these allowances in 1977. Combined old age security, guaranteed income supplement and spouses' allowance payments increased by $423 million or 9.6% to $4,820 million in 1977-78 from $4,397 million in 1976-77. Another significant increase occurred in the local initiatives and Canada works programs which together rose by $123 million.

The $1,270 million or 12.6% increase in total current goods and services accounts for 25.8% of the total increase in expenditure. This increase is less than the 13.5% increase of 1976-77 and the 15.5% increase experienced in 1975-76. Non-defence goods and services expenditures increased by $831 million or 12.4% in 1977-78 while defence goods and services expenditures increased by $439 million, or 13.1%. Non-defence wages, salaries and supplementary labour income increased by $566 million or 11.5% to $5,491 million from $4,925 million in 1976-77 while military pay and allowances increased by $96 million or 6.5% to $1,570 million in 1977-78 from $1,474 million in 1976-77.

The increase of $810 million or 17.4% in interest on the public debt to $5,472 million in 1977-78 from $4,662 million in 1976-77 accounts for 16.4% of the total increase in expenditure. This increase in public debt interest compares to increases of 19.3% in 1976-77 and 23.5% in 1975-76.

Transfer payments to provinces amounted to $9,741 million, a $688 million or 7.6% increase over 1976-77. This compares to increases of 20.7% and 13.3% in 1976-77 and 1975-76 respectively and accounts for 14% of the total increase in expenditure. Medicare, hospital insurance and diagnostic services and Canada assistance plan payments decreased by $406 million, $125 million and $13 million respectively. The reduction in these programs along with $466 million of the increase in the 'other' category of transfers to provinces due to the new extended health care program results from the implementation of the provisions of the new Federal-Provincial Fiscal Arrangements and Established Programs Financing Act which transferred additional tax room to the provinces for the financing of these programs. The provisions of this new legislation also resulted in the $449 million or 69.3% increase in post-secondary education payments. A small, $76 million or 2.2%, increase in taxation agreements reflects the further winding down of revenue guarantee payments.

Transfers to local governments increased by $185 million to $390 million in 1977-78 from $205 million in 1976-77. Of this increase, $90 million is due to increased Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation sewage treatment and urban renewal payments.

Both subsidies and capital assistance to industry increased by $70 million in 1977-78. This represents increases of 2.9% and 22.4% respectively. Gross capital formation increased by $111 million or 9.7%.

II. Loans and other transactions

A. Loans, investments and advances

Loans, investments and advances decreased by $617 million in 1977-78 compared to a decrease of $801 million in 1976-77.

Loans, investments and advances to lending institutions accounted for $483 million of the decline and loans to other levels of government were down by $185 million reflecting the write-off of $232 million of loans to developing countries. Partly offsetting these reductions were higher loan requirements by the Canadian National Railways and lower principal repayments by Air Canada.

B. Accrual accounts

This category mainly reflects the difference between actual receipts and payments, and amounts receivable and payable used in arriving at current revenue and expenditure. For example, in the Extended National Accounts presentation, corporate taxes are recorded on an accrual basis as opposed to a collection basis.

The accrual accounts provided a source of $1,965 million in 1977-78 compared to a source of $609 million in 1976-77, for an increase of $1,356 million. Outstanding cheques, warrants and money orders accounted for $993 million of this increase, with the excess of corporate tax collections over corporate tax liabilities accounting for a further increase of $573 million. This was partly offset by an increase in the requirements of the supplementary period accounts amounting to $500 million.

C. Other transactions

Other transactions provided a source of $509 million in 1977-78 compared to only $38 million in 1976-77, for an increase of $471 million. Within this category, the provincial tax collection agreements account provided a source of $330 million in 1977-78 compared to a requirement of $121 million in 1976-77.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS AND EXTENDED NATIONAL ACCOUNTS RECONCILIATION

While the Public Accounts and the Extended National Accounts presentations result in the same total financial requirement figures, differences exist in the treatment of transactions in arriving at the budgetary surplus or deficit on a Public Accounts basis and the surplus or deficit on an Extended National Accounts basis. These differences are necessarily offset in the non-budgetary components of total financial requirements.

The reconciliation of transactions according to the two systems of accounts is set out in the tables that follow. The major factors which give rise to the need for a reconciliation are listed below.

In the Public Accounts presentation, Post Office revenue and expenditure are considered as budgetary transactions. In the National Accounts presentation, the postal service is considered to be of a business rather than governmental nature and Post Office revenue and expenditure, as such, are not included in the National Accounts presentation. However, the deficit or surplus of the Post Office is treated as a component of the investment income of its 'owner', the Government.

The deficits of Government business enterprises which are outside the Government accounting entity are, for Public Accounts presentation purposes, met through budgetary appropriations and thus recorded as budgetary expenditure. In the National Accounts presentation, these deficits are netted against Government investment income.

Revenue in the Public Accounts is recorded on a cash basis. While the major portion of National Accounts revenue is accounted for on a cash basis, certain items such as corporate income taxes and oil export charge are reported on an accrual basis.

Transactions of employee pension accounts and the Unemployment Insurance Account are treated as non-budgetary in the Public Accounts, although the Government's statutory contributions to these accounts and interest payments on the Government's liability to these accounts form part of budgetary expenditure. Employer and employee contributions to these accounts, plus any related interest income, form part of Government revenue in the Extended National Accounts presentation, and benefit payments form part of Government expenditure.

In the Public Accounts presentation, the purchase of capital assets such as buildings and machinery is recorded as a budgetary expenditure in the year of acquisition. Only newly produced capital assets and capital expenditures are included in National Accounts expenditure. Both Government revenue and expenditure include an allowance for the depreciation of capital assets in the latter framework while no such provision is made in the Public Accounts presentation.

The Extended National Accounts universe includes certain Government agencies which are not part of the Public Accounts universe. The actual financial transactions of those agencies form part of Extended National Accounts revenue and expenditure. Transfers and loans to these agencies are thus not accounted for in the Extended National Accounts presentation.

OPINION OF THE AUDITOR GENERAL ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA

This year, for the first time, I am reporting on the financial statements of the Government of Canada under the provisions of the Auditor General Act, S.C. 1976-77, c. 34, proclaimed on August 1, 1977. Section 6 of the Act requires me to express an opinion as to whether these financial statements present fairly information in accordance with the stated accounting policies of the federal government and on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year together with any reservations I may have.

Accordingly, I have examined the financial statements of the Government of Canada for the year ended March 31, 1978, comprising:

the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure,

the Statement of Assets and Liabilities, and the Summary of Budgetary Appropriations, Expenditures and Unexpended Balances by Department.

My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and included such inquiries, tests and other procedures as I considered necessary to enable me to report as required by Section 6 of the Auditor General Act.

In my opinion, these financial statements present information in accordance with the stated accounting policies of the Government of Canada as set out in Note 1 to the financial statements and on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year except for the change in the basis of translating to Canadian dollars the assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies which is set out in Note 3 (i) to the financial statements and with which I concur.

I have the following reservations concerning certain of the stated accounting policies of the Government of Canada which, in my opinion, affect the fairness of the information presented in the financial statements. I have commented on the matters described in these reservations in previous Reports to the House of Commons.

—As a result of the inclusion of certain balances identified in Notes 5 and 7 to the financial statements and designated for deletion from the accounts, assets and liabilities are overstated by $3,481 million and $52 million respectively. There is an allowance for losses on the realization of assets of $546 million; however, this is a general allowance against all classes of assets.

—All Crown corporations named in Schedules C and D to the Financial Administration Act are excluded from the accounting entity of the Government of Canada. In my view, certain of these corporations should not be excluded from the entity because they engage in government-type activities and are financially dependent on the public purse. If such corporations were included, the reported value of loans to and investments in them would be reduced to the extent it represents amounts, such as capital expenditures, that would have been charged to budgetary expenditure under the Government's stated accounting policies. (These loans and investments include certain amounts which are described below as being questionable on other grounds.)

—Certain Crown corporations have a history of deficits and lack sufficient revenues to repay their indebtedness to Canada. Loans to and investments in these corporations, totalling $1,325 million, are questionable on these grounds. The reported value of loans to developing countries and loans to and subscriptions in international development associations, amounting to $2,490 million, is questionable since by their terms these loans and subscriptions have the characteristics of grants or contributions. Under the Government's stated accounting policies grants and contributions are recorded as budgetary expenditures rather than assets.

Additional information and comments respecting these reservations are included in my observations on the financial statements in Section 3 of this volume.

Notes to the Financial Statements of the Government of Canada

1. Significant accounting policies and practices

The accounting policies and practices of the Government of Canada have evolved over many years. They are based on concepts embodied in the British North America Act, the Financial Administration Act and other legislation.

i. Basic concepts

The two basic concepts on which the Government's accounting system is based are found in the British North America Act: first, the concept of the Consolidated Revenue Fund, which emanates from the requirement that all duties and revenues received, other than those reserved to the provinces, "shall form One Consolidated Revenue Fund"; second, the concept that the balance of the Fund, after certain prior charges, "shall be appropriated by the Parliament of Canada".

Parliament provides authority to make payments out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund in annual appropriation acts and other statutes (referred to as statutory appropriations). The spending authority granted in appropriation acts is for stated purposes and maximum amounts. Unless provided for in the wording of the votes, unused balances of the spending authority granted in appropriation acts lapse at the end of the year for which it was granted. The spending authority provided by statutory appropriations is for specified purposes and for such amounts and such time as the acts prescribe. The spending authority provided by statutory appropriations does not lapse at the end of the year in which it was granted.

ii. Government of Canada as an accounting entity

As an accounting entity, the Government of Canada is defined as all the departments named in Schedule A of the Financial Administration Act; any division or branch of the Public Service of Canada, including a commission appointed under the Inquiries Act designated by the Governor in Council as a department for purposes of the Financial Administration Act; the staffs of the Senate, the House of Commons, and the Library of Parliament; and, any corporation named in Schedule B of the Financial Administration Act.

In accordance with the above definition, the financial statements of the Government have not been prepared on a consolidated basis and therefore do not reflect the operations of the corporations named in Schedules C and D of the Financial Administration Act. In addition, the Exchange Fund Account, the Canada Pension Plan Account, the Unemployment Insurance Account, the revolving funds and certain similar accounts have separate financial statements which are not combined with those of the Government.

iii. Classification of financial transactions

The financial transactions of the Government of Canada as recorded in the accounts of Canada and reflected in the Public Accounts are classified into budgetary transactions and other transactions consisting of non-budgetary, foreign exchange and unmatured debt transactions.

In general terms, budgetary transactions are those which enter into the calculation of the annual budgetary surplus or deficit and are disclosed on the Government's Statement of Revenue and Expenditure. The other transactions lead to the acquisition or disposal of financial claims or to the creation or discharge of financial obligations which are disclosed on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

For purposes of accounting and reporting, the Public Accounts uses the classification in force at the end of the year to which the report refers and presents comparative figures for the previous year on a consistent basis.

iv. Budgetary revenue

Revenue consists of all tax and non-tax receipts which affect the budgetary deficit or surplus of the Government and includes revenue internal to the Government.

The Government of Canada generally reports revenue in the year in which it is received with refunds of revenue allocated to the year in which they are actually paid.

Revenue is stated after deducting refunds paid and excludes amounts receivable, taxes collected on behalf of provinces, receipts from contributors to the Canada Pension Plan, the Unemployment Insurance and the superannuation accounts, and receipts and revenues credited to revolving funds and to other asset and liability accounts.

Revenue is stated both gross and net. The difference between the two is revenue credited to appropriations and postal receipts used to defray postal expenditures.

v. Budgetary expenditure

Expenditure consists of all charges to budgetary appropriations for goods and services and for transfer payments which affect the budgetary deficit or surplus of the Government. Expenditure includes:

- Payments made during the year for goods and services, and for transfer payments;
- Payments made according to the provisions of the Financial Administration Act within thirty days following the end of the year, on account of debts incurred prior to the end of the year for work performed, goods received, services rendered, or resulting from contractual arrangements;
- Interest accrued on the public debt;
- Accruals of certain salaries and wages earned but not paid at the end of the year;
- Interest and Government contributions credited to superannuation, other annuity, insurance and pension accounts and to the Unemployment Insurance Account;
- Write-off of assets;
- Amortization of discount on Treasury bills and actuarial deficiencies of superannuation accounts;
- Amounts credited to the undisbursed balances of appropriations to special accounts;
- Expenditures internal to the Government.

Expenditure is stated both gross and net. The difference between the two is revenue credited to appropriations and postal receipts used to defray postal expenditures. Expenditure does not include pensions paid under the Canada Pension Plan, superannuation and other pension accounts, Unemployment Insurance payments other than benefits to fishermen, payments financed from undisbursed balances of appropriations to special accounts and payments charged to working capital advance accounts and to revolving funds and other asset and liability accounts.

vi. Assets and liabilities

Assets are defined as the financial claims acquired by the Government of Canada on outside organizations and individuals as a result of events and transactions prior to the accounting date. Liabilities are defined as financial obligations to outside organizations and individuals as a result of events and transactions prior to the accounting date.

However, as a result of the Government's accounting policies and practices described above, and in accordance with the provisions of the Financial Administration Act, certain financial claims and obligations are not reported on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

The most important types of financial claims not so reported are the accounts receivable both for tax and non-tax revenue. Similarly, the financial obligations not so reported include: accounts payable for goods and services received in the year but not paid within thirty days from the end of the year; accounts payable related to statutory appropriations; accrued liabilities for certain retroactive salary and wage settlements, for unpaid overtime, annual vacation and unused sick leave, and for benefits payable upon termination of employment; actuarial liabilities arising from the indexing to the cost of living of superannuate pensions and annuities.

The Statement of Assets and Liabilities includes, however, certain balances of accounts internal to the Government (Note 7) which will continue to be reported until parliamentary authority to delete them from the accounts of Canada has been obtained.

vii. Valuation of assets and liabilities

Assets are recorded at cost except for:

- Assets denominated in foreign currencies, which are translated to Canadian currency at year-end closing rates of exchange; and
- Fixed assets, which are carried at the nominal value of $1.

Assets have not been subject to revaluation to reflect collectable or recoverable values. However, a general allowance for losses on all classes of assets has been provided. This allowance does not constitute a reserve related to any specific asset or classes of assets.

Liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated to Canadian currency at year-end closing rates of exchange. All other liabilities are recorded in the amounts ultimately payable except for the superannuation accounts of the Canadian Forces, the Public Service and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the Government annuities account, which are valued on an actuarial basis; the Canada Pension Plan Account and the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account are not maintained on an actuarial basis. However, the Canada Pension Plan Act limits payments from the Consolidated Revenue Fund to the amount of the outstanding balance in the Canada Pension Plan Account.

2. Changes in financial statement presentation

Changes have been made in the financial statements, in accordance with recommendations made in the Report on the Study of the Accounts of Canada.

i. Statement of Revenue and Expenditure

Gross postal receipts amounting to $119 million used to defray certain postal expenditures under the authority of the Post Office Act are included in gross revenue and expenditure. The comparative figure for 1976-77 was $103 million.

ii. Statement of Assets and Liabilities

The order in which assets and liabilities are displayed in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities has been slightly modified to make it consistent with Section 1 of this volume.

3. Changes in accounting practices

i. Translation of assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies

A change has been made in the practice of reporting assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies which are now translated at the year-end closing rates of exchange. Previously, such assets and liabilities, other than cash and short-term liabilities, were reported at historical values. Cash and short-term liabilities have always been translated at year-end closing rates of exchange.

This change has been made to introduce consistency in the translation of assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies and to reflect more accurately the current value of the financial claims and obligations of the Government.

This change has been reflected in the accounts as follows:

- Revenue has been increased by $170 million, including $162 million attributable to previous years, and $8 million attributable to 1977-78;
- Assets have been increased by $320 million, including $225 million applicable to assets of March 31, 1977, and $95 million to those of 1977-78; and
- Liabilities have been increased by $150 million, including $63 million applicable to liabilities of March 31, 1977, and $87 million to those of 1977-78.

ii. Accounting for revenue from the private sector credited to appropriations

Effective in 1977-78, the authority to spend revenue received from the private sector was discontinued for certain programs. In accounting for this change, such revenues are now credited to revenue rather than to appropriations. For comparative purposes, various non-tax revenue accounts have been increased by $81 million for 1976-77. Offsetting increases to net departmental expenditures have been made as follows:

	(in millions of dollars)
Agriculture—
Production and marketing	1
Health of animals	5
Communications	18
Customs and Excise	2
Energy, Mines and Resources—
Earth sciences	3
Indian Affairs and Northern Development—
Parks Canada	11
Insurance	3
Public Works—
Land management and development	4
Veterans Affairs—

iii. Undisbursed balances of appropriations to special accounts

The following account was eliminated from this category:

The National Defence—Surplus Crown assets account was revoked by authority of Appropriation Act No 4, 1977-78. The opening balance of $11 million and $1 million received during the year were credited to expenditure.

4. Amounts credited or charged to asset and liability accounts

According to the Government's stated accounting policies and practices, certain receipts and payments have been credited or charged to asset and liability accounts. The two more important groups are described below:

i. Annuity, insurance and pension accounts

The Unemployment Insurance Account, the Canada Pension Plan Account and the Government superannuation accounts are maintained separately within the accounts of Canada and accordingly receipts and payments made for these accounts are not reflected in revenue and expenditure:

	(in millions of dollars)
	1978		1977
	Credits	Charges	Credits	Charges
Canada Pension Plan Account ..	2,767	1,105	2,461	874
Unemployment Insurance Account	3,982	4,362	4,261	3,670
Superannuation accounts	2,039	503	1,949	476
Government annuities	87	96	92	93
Other annuity, insurance and pension accounts	361	188	143	43

ii. Departmental asset and liability accounts

Receipts and payments for the following accounts are not reflected in revenue and expenditure:

	(in millions of dollars)
	Credits	Charges	Credits	Charges
Airports Revolving Fund	42	68	41	70
Transport—Railway grade crossing Fund		16		27
Urban Affairs—National capital Fund		17		21
Deposit and trust accounts	9	2	14	3

5. Loans likely to require parliamentary appropriations for write-off

The loans described below are likely to require parliamentary appropriations for write-off in subsequent years; until such appropriations are obtained, the assets are overstated by the following amounts:

	(in millions of dollars)
Canadian Broadcasting Corporation	198	198
National Capital Commission	38	38
Northwest Territories	105	105
Yukon Territory	43	43
	384	384

6. Revolving funds

Revolving funds are authorizations by Parliament to draw monies from the Consolidated Revenue Fund for prescribed purposes, up to a given maximum at any one time, which, together with attendant receipts, may be expended for those purposes on a continuing basis.

The year-end balances of the amounts advanced from the Consolidated Revenue Fund are included as assets in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Surpluses or deficits of revolving funds are included in revenue or expenditure in accordance with Treasury Board policy unless special permission is granted to carry over surpluses and accumulated deficits.

In 1977-78, cumulative surpluses totalling $8 million ($6 million in 1976-77) have been transferred to non-tax revenue while cumulative deficits of $3 million ($3 million in 1976-77) have been recouped from appropriations.

However, cumulative surpluses of $35 million ($55 million in 1976-77) have not been transferred to non-tax revenue and cumulative deficits of $1 million ($1 million in 1976-77) have not been recouped from appropriations. Of these cumulative surpluses, the Airport Revolving Fund and the Supply Revolving Fund accounted for $22 million ($46 million in 1976-77) and $11 million ($8 million in 1976-77) respectively.

7. Accounts internal to the Government

Certain accounts reported as assets and liabilities do not meet the definitions stated in Note 1 (vi). However, these accounts will continue to be reported on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities until such time as parliamentary authority is obtained to delete them.

Accounts internal to the Government reported as assets, represent deferred expenditures chargeable to subsequent years, in accordance with legislation, regulations or established practice. Those reported as liabilities represent spending authority carried forward to future years.

The balances of these accounts in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities as at March 31 have the effect of overstating the assets and liabilities by the following amounts:

	(in millions of dollars)
ASSETS
Unemployment Insurance advances	2,114	1,734
Working capital advances to revolving funds, departments and agencies	843	727
Unamortized bond flotation costs	140	140
LIABILITIES
Undisbursed balances of appropriations to special accounts	52	38

8. Annuity, insurance and pension accounts

i. Canada Pension Plan Account

The Canada Pension Plan Account is not maintained on an actuarial basis because the Canada Pension Plan Act limits payments from the Consolidated Revenue Fund to the amount of the outstanding balance in the account. Financial statements of the Canada Pension Plan Account can be found in Section 15 of Volume II.

ii. Unamortized portions of actuarial deficiencies of superannuation accounts

These accounts record the unamortized portions of the actuarial deficiencies in the Public Service Superannuation Account, the Canadian Forces Superannuation Account, and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Account which have been set up as deferred charges and credited to the superannuation accounts.

Adjustments for actuarial deficiencies in respect of authorized salary increases and quinquennial valuation were recorded in 1977-78 in the amount of $616 million while amortization to expenditure was $829 million. In 1976-77, adjustments were $677 million and amortization was $784 million. An actuarial deficiency of $15 million was determined during the year based on the quinquennial valuation of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Account as at December 31, 1974.

Actuarial valuations are made quinquennially, the next of which will be made effective December 31, 1977 for the Public Service Superannuation Account, December 31, 1975 for the Canadian Forces Superannuation Account and December 31, 1979 for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Account.

Any actuarial deficiency revealed will be credited to the account and charged to unamortized portions of actuarial deficiencies and amortized to expenditure in five equal annual instalments commencing in the year in which the report is laid before Parliament. The cost of added liabilities under the superannuation acts as a result of the authorization of salary increases is to be credited to the superannuation accounts and charged to unamortized portions of actuarial deficiencies and amortized to expenditure over a period of five years commencing in the year in which the increases are authorized.

iii. The Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account

The Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account was established in 1970 for the payment of increased pension benefits resulting from indexation. No actuarial valuations are required to be made of the account.

Increased superannuation benefits paid during the year due to indexation amounted to $170 million ($131 million in 1976-77). In accordance with legislation, $165 million ($126 million in 1976-77) representing benefits to superannuates in excess of their share of contributions to the account was charged to expenditures. Only $5 million ($5 million in 1976-77) was charged to the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account.

9. Unrecorded accounts payable

According to the Government's accounting policies and practices, only the payments made within thirty days following the end of the year relating to debts incurred prior to the end of the year for work performed, goods received, services rendered or resulting from contractual arrangements are recorded as accounts payable. Of the unrecorded accounts payable, the following are summarized:

	(in millions of dollars)
	1978	1977
Accounts payable for goods and services.....	77	46
Retroactive salary and wage payments	39	44
	116	90

Details of unrecorded accounts payable can be found in Section 9 of Volume I of the Public Accounts, "Summary of Accounts Properly Chargeable to 1977-1978 but carried over to 1978-79."

Retroactive salary and wage payments represent pay adjustments partly applicable to 1977-78 which have been or will be paid in 1978-79 resulting from collective bargaining agreements.

10. Foreign assets and liabilities

The foreign assets and liabilities recorded under these headings are those which can be identified with Canada's foreign exchange operations and investments in international banking institutions. Some are denominated in foreign currencies and some are denominated in Canadian currency. Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recorded at the Canadian currency equivalent at March 31st. There are other foreign assets and liabilities such as foreign bank balances which are included with other cash balances at their Canadian dollar equivalents and amounts denominated in foreign currencies which are held in deposit and trust accounts.

11. Maturity of Government debt

The following amounts represent that portion of unmatured debt maturing in the next five years:

	(in millions of dollars)
	Treasury bills	Marketable bonds	Canada savings bonds	Notes payable to Canadian banks
1979.....	11,295	2,099	2,640	850
1980.....		3,047	143
1981.....		2,932	919
1982.....		1,594	804
1983.....		2,401	277
	11,295	12,073	4,783	850
				29,001

It should be noted however that all Canada savings bonds are redeemable on demand regardless of maturity date.

Details of unmatured debt may be found in Section 8 of this volume.

12. Gross liabilities of the Government of Canada

The Statement of Assets and Liabilities has been prepared in accordance with the concept that assets are financial claims acquired by the Government of Canada on outside parties and liabilities are its financial obligations to outside parties. The deferred expenditure charges and accounts internal to the Government are not in keeping with this concept. To arrive at the gross liabilities of the Government, the amounts are adjusted as shown in the following table:

	(in millions of dollars)		Net increase or decrease (-)
	1978	1977
Total liabilities per statement.....	80,048	67,075	12,973
Unamortized portions of actuarial deficiencies.....	1,510	1,723	- 213
Discount on Treasury bills.....	191	124	67
Undisbursed balances of appropriations to special accounts (accounts internal to the Government) ..	- 52	- 38	- 14
	81,697	68,884	12,813

13. Contingent liabilities of the Government of Canada

The contingent liabilities of the Government of Canada as at March 31, 1978, are as follows:

	(in millions of dollars)
	1978	1977
Borrowings by Crown Corporations under guarantee or as agents of the Government	2,176	1,555
Insured loans under the National Housing Act, 1954	17,874	15,130
Other	3,686	2,128

Details are listed in Section 8 of this volume.

14. Events subsequent to the end of the year

The following events have occurred subsequent to the end of the year:

i. Revolving standby credit facilities

In December 1977, the Government entered into an agreement with the Bank of Canada and the Canadian chartered banks to establish with the chartered banks a seven year revolving standby credit facility under which up to $1,500 million US could be borrowed; this amount was increased to $2,500 million US in April 1978.

As at March 31, 1978, drawdowns under this facility amounted to $750 million US ($850 million Canadian). These transactions were recorded in the accounts of Canada by increases in the advance to the Exchange Fund Account and the recording of liabilities for Notes payable to Canadian banks totalling $850 million Canadian.

As of September 15, 1978, drawings amounted to $3,250 million US and repayments were $2,750 million US, leaving $500 million US outstanding at September 15, 1978.

In June 1978, the Government entered into an eight year revolving standby credit facility agreement with a group of United States and other foreign banks under which up to $3,000 million US could be borrowed during the first four years of the agreement; during the succeeding four years the amount available would be reduced in steps, to one-third of the original amount.

As of September 15, 1978, aggregate drawings under this facility were $1,000 million US, all of which was outstanding at that date.

ii. Capital reorganization of Air Canada

The Air Canada Act, 1977, authorized the reorganization of Air Canada, including its capital structure. Although the act was assented to in February 1978, the Governor in Council Order necessary to effect the capital reorganization was not issued until April 13, 1978 and consequently, the effects of the reorganization on the Government's investment in Air Canada are not reflected in the 1978 Public Accounts.

The capital reorganization involved:

- The conversion of $324 million of debt owed by Air Canada to the Government and to the Canadian National Railways into an equivalent amount of equity;
- The cancellation of $5 million of Air Canada capital stock held by the Canadian National Railways in return for the cancellation of $5 million of debt owed by the Canadian National Railways to the Government; and
- The issuance of $5 million of Air Canada capital stock to the Government.

This resulted in the Government becoming the direct sole owner of Air Canada's 329,009 issued shares valued at $329 million.

Residual debt totalling $311 million owed by Air Canada to the Government and the Canadian National Railways, was consolidated into a single note repayable to the Government over 15 years, at a nominal rate of interest of 7.243%, in equal semi-annual instalments of principal and interest.

As a result of this recapitalization, the debt owed by the Canadian National Railways to the Government was reduced by some $349 million, an amount equivalent to the Canadian National Railways' investment in Air Canada prior to the recapitalization.

iii. Capital revision of Canadian National Railways

Amendments to the Canadian National Railways Capital Revision Act and the Railway Act, authorized a revision of the capital structure of the Canadian National Railways. Although the amending act is retroactive to December 31, 1977, Royal Assent was not obtained until June 30, 1978, and the Governor in Council Orders necessary to effect the capital revision have not yet been issued. Consequently, the effects of the revision are not reflected in the 1978 Public Accounts.

The result of the revision is that the capital structure of the Canadian National Railways will be changed by the cancellation of $808 million of loans and advances and a corresponding increase in the value of the no par value shares. The value of these shares will be further increased by: $1,556 million, representing the value of the 4% preferred shares outstanding at December 31, 1977, which are to be cancelled; the $428 million of capital investment in Canadian Government Railways; and an adjustment of $808 million for depreciation not charged to operations in previous years. The authorized and issued capital stock of the National Company will remain at 6 million shares. The act also makes provision for the payment of dividends to the Receiver General.

The Government's 100% ownership of the Canadian National Railways is not affected by the capital revision.

Observations by the Auditor General on the Financial Statements of the Government of Canada

Introduction

I have examined the financial statements of the Government of Canada for the year ended March 31, 1978, which, together with my opinion, are included in Section 2 of this volume. These financial statements are the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure, the Statement of Assets and Liabilities, and the Summary of Budgetary Appropriations, Expenditures and Unexpended Balances by Department. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and included such inquiries, tests and other procedures as I considered necessary to enable me to report as required by Section 6 of the Auditor General Act.

I am, for the first time, expressing an opinion in accordance with Section 6 of the new Auditor General Act, which provides that:

The Auditor General shall examine the several financial statements required by section 55 of the Financial Administration Act to be included in the Public Accounts, and any other statements that the Minister of Finance may present for audit and shall express his opinion as to whether they present fairly information in accordance with stated accounting policies of the federal government and on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year together with any reservations he may have.

My opinion includes a number of reservations with respect to certain accounting policies of the Government of Canada which, in my view, affect the fairness of the information presented in the financial statements. These reservations relate to balances designated to be deleted from the accounts but reported as assets and liabilities, the effect of excluding certain Crown corporations from the government accounting entity and the reported value of certain loans, investments and advances. I have reported on the matters described in these reservations in previous years.

The observations that follow provide additional information and comments on the reservations included in my opinion. They also provide comments concerning additional information which, in my view, should be included as a part of the financial statements of the Government submitted for audit and comments on the progress made by the Government in implementing the recommendations of the Study of the Accounts of Canada.

Change in Accounting Policy

As explained in Note 3 (i) to the financial statements, all assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency are translated to Canadian dollars at year-end closing rates of exchange, with any gain or loss recorded as revenue or expenditure in the year. In prior years, only cash and short-term liabilities denominated in foreign currency were translated to Canadian dollars at year-end closing rates of exchange; all other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency were translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the time such assets were acquired or liabilities incurred.

This change in accounting policy, with which I concur, provides for a more current measure, in Canadian dollars, of those financial claims and obligations of the Government denominated in foreign currency.

Assets and Liabilities Designated for Deletion

Certain amounts do not represent assets and liabilities of the Government of Canada because they are not recoverable from or payable to outside organizations or individuals. The amounts reported as assets are a deferral of current and prior years' expenditures and are treated in this manner either because of the requirements of the underlying legislation or because write-off action has not been initiated. Those reported as liabilities represent spending authority carried forward to future years. These amounts identified as "Accounts internal to the Government" and "Loans likely to require parliamentary appropriation for write-off" overstate assets by $3,481 million and liabilities by $52 million.

Accounts internal to the Government

Note 7 to the financial statements identifies the following accounts reported as assets and liabilities which do not constitute financial claims on or obligations to organizations or individuals outside the Government.

Assets
Working capital advances to revolving funds, departments and agencies	$ 843 million
Unemployment Insurance advances	2,114 "
Unamortized bond flotation costs	140 "
	$3,097 million
Liabilities
Undisbursed balances of appropriations to special accounts	$ 52 million

These balances have been designated by the Government for deletion when parliamentary approval is obtained.

The working capital advances to revolving funds, departments and agencies are not recoverable from parties outside the Government. These advances principally represent the acquisition of fixed assets and inventories which would otherwise be treated as budgetary expenditures under stated government accounting policies. This inconsistency in accounting for assets and expenditures was recognized by the Study of the Accounts of Canada in its recommendation that such advances be treated as budgetary expenditures and not carried as assets.

Unemployment Insurance non-interest bearing advances primarily represent amounts for benefit payments to be borne by the Government which, because of provisions in the underlying legislation, have not been recorded as budgetary expenditures in the year in which the benefits were paid. Accordingly, these advances represent a deferral of expenditures and the Study of the Accounts of Canada recommended their deletion as assets. To implement this recommendation, underlying legislation will have to be amended to permit such advances to be recorded as budgetary expenditures in the same fiscal period in which the related benefits were paid.

Before 1977, bond flotation costs were recorded as assets and charged to expenditure over the life of the related debt issue. In 1977 and subsequent years, the Government has recorded bond flotation costs on new issues as budgetary expenditures. The balance of unamortized bond flotation costs on previous years' issues represents a deferral of expenditure and should also be written off.

Loans likely to require parliamentary appropriation for write-off

In Note 5 to the financial statements, the following loans are identified as likely to require parliamentary appropriation for write-off:

Canadian Broadcasting Corporation	$ 198 million
National Capital Commission	38 "
Northwest Territories	105 "
Yukon Territory	43 "
	$ 384 million

These loans were made before March 31, 1975, to finance capital expenditures of these entities. Since that date, such capital expenditures have been financed by budgetary appropriations of Canada. Payments of principal and interest on these loans have been deferred by the Government until 1979.

Allowance for losses on realization of assets

The allowance for losses on realization of assets of $546 million is insufficient to provide for the overstatements of assets identified above. This allowance was established many years ago and is a general allowance for losses on all classes of assets. It does not constitute a provision for loss related to any specific asset or class of assets, even though Section 54 of the Financial Administration Act provides a means for establishing an adequate allowance. Furthermore, departments are not required to identify delinquent loans and advances for purposes of assessing the adequacy of this allowance.

The Accounting Entity

The accounting entity of the Government of Canada includes government departments and Crown corporations listed in Schedules A and B of the Financial Administration Act. The financial operations of these organizations are reflected in the financial statements of the Government of Canada on the basis of the Government's stated accounting policies. Crown corporations listed in Schedules C and D of the Act are excluded from the accounting entity as are all other government-owned and controlled enterprises not listed in Schedules to the Act. Thus, their financial operations, assets and liabilities are not reflected in the financial statements of the Government. The rationale for excluding these organizations is that they are engaged in activities fundamentally different from those of government departments.

In 1976, my Office studied the budgetary and accounting consequences of the classification of Crown corporations of which I am the auditor. This study covered a number of significant corporations named in Schedules C and D, including the National Harbours Board and the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority. The study concluded that differences between many of these corporations and government departments and agencies are more matters of form than substance. Most of the corporations studied engage in operations subject to significant non-commercial considerations, depend on parliamentary appropriations or other forms of governmental financial assistance for their continued existence, or carry out regulatory or other government-type activities. Thus the definition of the government accounting entity is based on a questionable premise concerning the nature of the activities of the corporations studied. Accordingly, in my 1976 Report I recommended that:

Crown corporations which carry on government-type activity, or are financially dependent on the public purse, should be included in the Government of Canada accounting entity:

- to be consistent with the basic concept of segregating governmental from commercial activities undertaken under the auspices of the Government; and
- to provide for more informative disclosure of summary information in the Estimates and in the Public Accounts so that these documents display consistently all government-type activities financed out of the public purse.

Exclusion from the government accounting entity of such corporations results in inconsistencies in the recording of assets and budgetary expenditures. Similar transactions for similar purposes are recorded as assets in some circumstances and as budgetary expenditures in others.

For example, the National Harbours Board operates ports and related facilities; similarly, the Airports Revolving Fund of the Department of Transport operates airports and related facilities. Loans to both the Revolving Fund and the Board were used to finance the acquisition of fixed assets. Loans to the Revolving Fund are to be written off because they are not loans to an organization outside the government accounting entity. In contrast, loans to the Board continue to be reported as assets of the Government because the Board is considered to be an outside organization. If the Board were included in the accounting entity, the reported value of the Government's loans would be substantially reduced.

The St. Lawrence Seaway Authority operates a deep waterway system between the Port of Montreal and Lake Erie and is another example of a Crown corporation that carries on a government-type activity but is excluded from the accounting entity. If the Authority were included, the value of the Government's investment of $625 million reported in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities would be reduced by approximately $600 million representing, for the most part, the acquisition of fixed assets by the Authority. Fixed assets relating to the Welland Canal and non-toll canals were previously financed by budgetary appropriations of Canada and therefore are not reflected in the Government's investment. Accordingly, some of the fixed assets of the Seaway are indirectly shown as assets in the accounts of Canada and some are not.

At present, acquisitions of fixed assets by certain Schedule C and D corporations, financed through parliamentary appropriations, are recorded as budgetary expenditures in the accounts of Canada and not as assets. For example, this year the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and the National Capital Commission received appropriations of $64 million and $37 million to finance fixed asset acquisitions. The use of budgetary appropriations to finance fixed asset acquisitions by all Schedule C and D corporations that carry on government-type activities and are financially dependent on the public purse would result in such acquisitions being reported in the accounts of Canada on a consistent basis.

The inconsistencies described in the foregoing arise because Crown corporations that carry on government-type activities and are financially dependent on the Government are treated as organizations outside the government accounting entity. As a result of these inconsistencies, the reported value of loans to and investments in such corporations is overstated in the accounts of Canada. (These loans and investments include certain amounts which are described below as being questionable on other grounds.)

Loans, Investments and Advances, the Reported Value of which is Questionable

A number of Crown corporations have a history of deficits and lack sufficient revenues to repay their indebtedness to Canada. The reported value of loans to and investments in the National Harbours Board of $342 million, the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority of $625 million and Atomic Energy of Canada Limited of $358 million, totalling $1,325 million, is questionable on these grounds.

The reported value of loans to developing countries and loans to and subscriptions in international development associations, amounting to $2,490 million, is questionable since by their terms these loans and subscriptions have the characteristics of grants or contributions. Under the Government's stated accounting policies grants and contributions are recorded as budgetary expenditures rather than assets.

The National Harbours Board

The Government's reported investment in the National Harbours Board consists of loans and advances totalling $342 million. At December 31, 1977, the Board reported an accumulated deficit of $374 million, after providing for $256 million of interest in arrears on these loans and on other government loans previously written off. The Board's inability to pay its interest and the size of its accumulated deficit indicate that the Board will not likely be able to repay its outstanding loans from the Government.

The St. Lawrence Seaway Authority

In previous years I reported that it was extremely unlikely that the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority would be able to repay its outstanding loans from Canada. At April 1, 1977, these interest-bearing loans of $625 million, representing the Government's reported investment in the Authority, were converted to contributed capital and the recorded value of the investment remained unchanged in the accounts of Canada. The fact that the Authority has been unable to pay interest of $210 million on these loans indicates the recorded value of the Government's investment remains questionable.

Atomic Energy of Canada Limited

At March 31, 1978, the Corporation reported an accumulated deficit of $163 million. Since it appears at present that the Corporation is unlikely to generate sufficient income from its commercial operations to offset its accumulated deficit, the recorded value of the Government's investment of $164 million of capital stock and contributed capital is questionable.

Included in the Government's loans to the Corporation is $194 million related to the construction of the La Prade heavy water plant which will be deferred according to announcements by the Government subsequent to the year-end. This loan may require parliamentary appropriation for write-off.

During the year, loans of $87 million respecting the prototype nuclear generating station at Gentilly, Quebec were written off as research expenditure and loans of $70 million pertaining to the Douglas Point, Ontario nuclear station were converted to equity. These loans were questioned in my previous years' Reports.

Loans to developing countries

Loans to national governments include $1,414 million in special loan assistance to developing countries. Most of these loans bear no interest and are repayable over 50 years with no payments falling due in the first 10 years. A certain number carry nominal interest rates of 3/4 of 1%. Loans for such long periods and with such low interest rates have the characteristics of grants or contributions, but are recorded as assets of the Government of Canada in conformity with the appropriation authorities which authorized them. During the year parliamentary approval was obtained to write off loans to least developed countries amounting to $232 million previously reported in this category.

Subscriptions, loans and advances to international organizations reported as foreign assets include $314 million of special loan assistance to international development associations. These loans have no repayment terms and bear no interest. Repayment will fall due only on termination of the associations. These loans also have the characteristics of grants.

In addition to these working capital advances, Canada's subscription to an international development association amounts to $762 million. This association makes loans to developing countries on similar terms to those of the special loan assistance commented on previously.

Disclosure of Additional Information in the Audited Financial Statements

The Public Accounts contain extensive information, displayed in a variety of ways, pertaining to the financial position and operations of the Government of Canada. This information can, for the most part, be summarized in the audited financial statements. The inclusion of additional audited statements, and the disclosure of additional information in the existing statements, would help provide the reader with a more complete and useful summary of the Government's financial position and operations. The following paragraphs comment on additional statements and information which could be usefully included as part of the audited financial statements.

Statement of Source and Use of Financial Resources

The audited financial statements of the Government of Canada would be improved if they included a statement that displayed the sources and uses of the Government's financial resources in order to show how the Government finances its operations. Such a statement was envisaged in recommendation 6 of the Report of the Independent Review Committee on the Office of the Auditor General of Canada which stated that:

The Public Accounts should include among the main financial statements of Canada a new statement showing changes in financial position during the fiscal year and the causes of such changes.

The conventional Statement of Revenue and Expenditure is inadequate for this purpose since it does not show the impact on debt and bank balances of non-budgetary transactions such as those involving Crown corporations, foreign exchange reserves and the use of special accounts. The net changes in asset and liability balances displayed in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities lack focus of presentation for the reader and do little to disclose the causes of these changes.

Over the years a number of tables in various sections of the Public Accounts have shown this type of information. The Summary Statement of Transactions in Section 1 of this volume together with supporting tables is an example. However, a summary statement that adequately explains changes in the Government's financial position is not included as an audited financial statement.

Summary of Use of Non-Budgetary Appropriations for Loans, Investments and Advances

The audited financial statements provide a comparison of budgetary expenditure with related appropriation authority in the Summary of Budgetary Appropriations, Expenditures and Unexpended Balances by Department. Both the Report on the Study of the Accounts of Canada and the Report of the Independent Review Committee on the Office of the Auditor General of Canada recommended that the Public Accounts include a similar comparison of non-budgetary expenditure with related appropriation authority. A Summary of Use of Non-Budgetary Appropriations by Department for Loans, Investments and Advances was developed this year and is included in Section 9 of this volume. The Government has advised that such a summary will be included with the 1979 financial statements of the Government to be submitted for audit.

Significant commitments

The audited statements would be improved if they disclosed, in summary form, major commitments related to future expenditure such as those resulting from contractual obligations under long-term leases, agreements to purchase capital assets and agreements related to Canada's activity in the international financial community. Many of these commitments are of financial significance. For example, the Government has agreed to purchase, when called upon, shares in various international development banks for an aggregate consideration of $1,448 million and make additional loans to developing countries of $680 million.

Implementation of Recommendations of the Study of the Accounts of Canada

The Report of the Study of the Accounts of Canada was tabled in the House of Commons on January 30, 1976, and referred to the Standing Committee on Public Accounts. In its Fifth Report, tabled on March 9, 1976, the Committee endorsed the 41 recommendations of the Study and recommended that the Treasury Board implement them as soon as it was technically possible to do so. Since that date a number of the Study's recommendations have been implemented and some action has been initiated on most others. The Financial Administration Branch of the Office of the Comptroller General of Canada has the responsibility for ensuring that the recommendations are implemented. The following comments relate to significant recommendations which are not yet implemented.

- Parliamentary authority has not yet been sought to delete "Accounts Internal to the Government" from the accounts of Canada as recommended in the Study. As mentioned previously, failure to delete these balances significantly overstates the Government's reported assets.
- Formal procedures have been developed to provide for the recording of all accounts payable for expenditures under annually lapsing appropriations, as recommended in the Study. Last year, I reported that the Branch intended to implement such procedures at March 31, 1978. The Branch now advises that these procedures will not be implemented until March 31, 1980, at the earliest.
- The Branch advises that work has started on a special study on the valuation of assets, but that this project may take some time to complete and implement. As reported last year, this study will facilitate implementation of recommendations concerning the establishment of provisions for losses on specific classes of assets.

- Procedures have been developed, and instructions to departments have been formalized, to quantify revenue internal to the Government. This information is presented in Section 4 of this volume, but is not reflected in the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure as recommended by the Study.
- The Program Branch of the Treasury Board Secretariat has instituted a project on revision of the form of the Estimates which will consider, among other issues, recommendations of the Study concerning the presentation of summary information in the Estimates. It is not expected that these recommendations will be fully implemented before 1980-81.
- A revised Treasury Board policy related to the Study's recommendations concerning revolving funds and cost recovery is expected to be available by December 31, 1978, with implementation planned for the year ended March 31, 1980. A revised policy on commitment accounting is expected by March 31, 1979.

The implementation of these recommendations has not progressed in accordance with the timetable that I was advised of and reported on last year. A number of completion dates have been postponed and much remains to be done. My Office will continue to monitor and report on the progress in implementing the recommendations of the Study.

BUDGETARY REVENUE

Revenue consists of all tax and non-tax receipts which affect the budgetary deficit or surplus of the Government and includes revenue internal to the Government.

The Government of Canada generally reports revenue in the year in which it is received with refunds of revenue allocated to the year in which they are actually paid.

Revenue is stated after deducting refunds paid and excludes amounts receivable, taxes collected on behalf of provinces, receipts from contributors to the Canada Pension Plan, the Unemployment Insurance and the superannuation accounts, and receipts and revenues credited to the revolving funds and to other asset and liability accounts. A comparison of receipts credited to non-budgetary accounts, is shown in Table 4.12 at the end of this section.

The yield from tax revenue is affected by changes in tax rates, by changes in the base on which taxes are calculated and by variations in economic conditions. Income tax liability relates to the income of a taxation year but the system of collecting personal and corporation income taxes by payroll deductions and instalments, produces a distribution of receipts throughout the year.

The major tax changes which had an impact on this year's tax revenue are:

- increase in the Federal tax credit for dependent children;
- increase in the general employment expense deduction limit;
- tax relief in respect of business inventories;
- federal investment tax credit:

—extension of the 5 per cent credit from June 30, 1977 to June 30, 1980;

—increase in the rate of credit for designated regions effective April 1, 1977;

—extension of the credit to current and capital expenditures on research and development, effective April 1, 1977.

—enhanced depletion for high cost oil and gas wells;

—extension of temporary tariff reductions and other tariff amendments.

Tax revenue decreased by $195 million in 1977-78 compared to an increase of $2,062 million in 1976-77.

The decrease of $1,180 million in personal income tax has resulted in a decrease in tax revenue in 1977-78. Increases were recorded in corporation and non-resident income taxes, sales tax, customs import and excise duties. Decreases were recorded in all other components of tax revenue. Non-tax revenue increased by $320 million, or 9% over the previous year.

Under fiscal arrangements that became operative in 1962 the federal government entered into tax-collection agreement under which it collects the provincial personal income taxes of all provinces except Quebec and the provincial corporation income taxes of all provinces except Ontario and Quebec.

Personal and corporation income taxes collected by the federal government on behalf of the provinces, and subsequently remitted to the provinces, are not included in the tables shown hereunder.

(1) Based on population, as of October 1 of each year.

(2) The old age security taxes were eliminated after 1971 but amounts determined by reference to the previously existing old age security tax rates were credited to the Old Age Security Fund.

Under amendments to the Old Age Security Act, which came into effect at the end of June, 1975, the Old Age Security Fund ceased to exist, benefits paid are to be charged to budgetary expenditure and transfers of personal and corporation income taxes and sales tax previously made to the fund were discontinued.

Personal income tax

In 1977-78, personal income tax was again the largest source of government revenue. The decrease was due mainly to tax changes introduced in 1977-78.

The concentration of personal income tax refunds in the early months of the year accounts for the relatively low level of deductions at source in April, May and June. Other collections, which represent taxes paid directly by individuals, were higher in May, reflecting the payment of balances due for the taxation year 1976, and in April, July, October and January, reflecting the payment of quarterly instalments for the taxation year 1977.

Corporation income tax

Corporation income tax was the second largest source of government revenue.

Non-resident income tax

Revenue in this category is derived from tax withheld from dividends, interests, rents, royalties, alimonies and income from estates and trusts paid to non-residents.

Excise taxes and duties

Excise taxes and duties totalled $9,123 million, 28% of total budgetary revenue.

From a revenue standpoint, the general sales tax totalling $4,427 million was the most important tax levied under the Excise Tax Act. Included in excise tax is $432 million in oil export charge, applicable to exports imposed under the Excise Tax Act.

Excise duties totalled $882 million and are levied on alcoholic beverages (other than wines) and tobacco products (Additional taxes on tobacco products and taxes on wines are levied under the Excise Tax Act).

Receipts from the gasoline tax were $598 million. Under certain conditions, the amounts received may be refunded to purchasers. As of March 31, 1978, $770 million was received and $172 million refunded and charged to revenue.

The yield from other excise taxes levied under the Excise Tax Act, other than the general sales tax, the oil export charge and the gasoline tax was $472 million.

Postal revenue

Gross receipts from postal operations were $936 million but authorized disbursements from revenue, for salaries and rent allowances, other allowances and commissions at semi-staff and revenue offices, commissions at sub-offices, transit charges on Canadian mail forwarded through and delivered in foreign countries, in the amount of $119 million, and revenue credited to expenditure of $44 million, reduced net postal revenue to $773 million.

Premium, discount and exchange

A change has been made in the practice of valuation of assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies which are now valued at the year-end closing rates of exchange. Previously, such assets and liabilities, other than cash and short-term liabilities, were reported at historical values. Cash and short-term liabilities have always been valued at year-end closing rates of exchange. This change has increased revenue by $170 million, including $156 million attributable to previous years, and $14 million attributable to 1977-78.

Refunds of previous years' expenditures

The Department of Finance received $7 million in transfer of amounts representing guaranteed loans, the Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce received $6 million resulting of assistance vote repayments, the Department of National Defence received $5 million for refunds or adjustments of contracts and refunds of advance payments on contracts, and Regional Economic Expansion received $6 million resulting from adjustments to projects.

Receipts and Revenue Credited to Appropriations

Receipts and revenue arising from the activities of particular programs which are credited to the appropriations of those programs and which are not included in budgetary revenue totalled $888 million in 1977-78. Since the authority to spend revenues received from the private sector has been discontinued in 1977-78 for certain programs, in full or in part, the figures for 1976-77 amounting to $81 million have therefore been restated for comparative purposes.

Table 4.7 summarizes receipts internal and external to the Government by department, while Table 4.8 segregates receipts and revenues between sources internal and external to the Government. Table 4.8 also provides information which may serve to show in detail revenues and expenditures on both a gross and net basis and ultimately arrive at revenues and expenditures involving outside parties.

(2) Authority to credit revenue to appropriations has been granted in 1977-78. A total amount of $7 million for 1976-77 has not been restated.

APPROPRIATIONS

Part of the expenditures of the public service is defrayed from moneys granted by Parliament in annual Appropriation Acts; however, substantial payments are made under authority of other acts which authorize expenditures for specified purposes and for such amounts and during such time as the acts may prescribe. The spending authority granted in the annual Appropriation Acts differs from that granted in "statutory" authorities in that it is usually for a specific amount and of definite duration and, unless there is provision to the contrary in the wording of the vote, any unused balance lapses at the end of the fiscal year for which it is granted.

Table 5.1 gives a summary of budgetary expenditure provided under the authority of annual Appropriation Acts and various statutory authorities for the year ended March 31, 1978. A statement in greater detail, classified by department, is given in Volume II.

⁽²⁾ Increase amounting to $8 million in appropriations resulted from Department of External Affairs authority in votes 10, 10a and 10b to pay assessments in the amounts and in the currencies in which they are levied, and to pay other amounts specified in the currencies of the countries indicated, notwithstanding that the total of such payments may exceed the equivalent in Canadian dollars, estimated as of October 1976.

Spending authority of $25 million was carried forward from 1976-77 in accordance with provisions of the original appropriations. Budgetary expenditure during 1977-78, totalled $18,952 million, consequently, $1,000 million, or about 5% of the amount provided by the Appropriation Acts for budgetary expenditures, was unspent at the close of the fiscal year. Of this amount, $977 million lapsed in accordance with Section 30 of the Financial Administration Act and $23 million was available for expenditure in 1978-79, in accordance with provisions of the Appropriation Acts.

Budgetary expenditure in 1977-78 under the authority of statutes authorizing payments from the Consolidated Revenue Fund for specific purposes without further appropriations, amounted to $23,930 million, accounting for approximately 56% of the total budgetary expenditures of $42,882 million. A comparative summary of these statutory expenditures by principal classes is shown in Table 5.2.

The Estimates for 1977-78 covering budgetary expenditure, and the Appropriation Acts granting funds in respect thereof, were as follows:

In 1976-77, annual Appropriation Acts authorized $17,505 million of which $16,317 million was used, and expenditures under Special Statutes were $22,613 million, resulting in total expenditures of $38,930 million.

- Payments made during the year for goods and services, and for transfer payments;
- Payments made according to the provisions of the Financial Administration Act within thirty days following the end of the year, on account of debts incurred prior to the end of the fiscal year for work performed, goods received, services rendered, or resulting from contractual arrangements;
- Interest accrued on the public debt;
- Accruals of certain salaries and wages earned but not paid at the end of the year;
- Interest and Government contributions credited to superannuation, other annuity, insurance and pension accounts and to the Unemployment Insurance Account;
- Write-offs of assets;
- Amortization of discount on Treasury bills and actuarial deficiencies of superannuation accounts;

—Amounts credited to undisbursed balances of appropriations to special accounts;

—Expenditures internal to the Government.

Expenditure is stated both gross and net. The difference between the two, is revenue credited to appropriations and postal receipts used to defray postal expenditures. Expenditure does not include pensions paid under the Canada Pension Plan, superannuation and other pension accounts, Unemployment Insurance payments other than benefits to fishermen, payments financed from undisbursed balances of appropriations to special accounts and payments charged to working capital advance accounts and to revolving funds and other asset and liability accounts.

EXPENDITURE BY FUNCTION

The government's budgetary expenditure classified by function, is summarized in Table 5.3.

The largest category of expenditure under the functional classification is health and welfare which accounted for $13,768 million or 32% of total expenditures. For comparative purposes, a five year table is presented on page 5.31.

EXPENDITURE BY MAJOR CLASSIFICATION

Expenditure is usually greater towards the end of the year because many construction contracts which are let in the early part of the year do not come up for payment until some months later and deficits sustained by Crown corporations and losses incurred in the operation of various agencies and accounts are not known until the end of the year. Also, under Section 30 of the Financial Administration Act, for thirty days after March 31, payments properly applicable to the old year may be made and charged to that year's accounts. Table 5.4 presents a summary of expenditure by month for 1977-78.

EXPENDITURE BY STANDARD OBJECT

Budgetary expenditure amounts have been coded to reflect the thirteen standard objects constituting the current expenditure coding system generally in use throughout the Government of Canada. The titles of the thirteen standard objects and a description of the contents of each are given below:

1. Personnel

The amounts included in this standard object are displayed under two titles:

Salaries and Wages

Includes salaries and wages, overtime and other special pay of all civilian continuing (full-time) or term (part-time, seasonal and casual) employees except those of agency and proprietary Crown corporations. It also includes Judges' salaries, those of the Governor General and Lieutenant-Governors and the indemnities to Members of both Houses of Parliament.

The pay and all types of allowances (except travel allowances included in "Travelling and Removal Expenses" below) paid to members of the Canadian forces and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, including subsistence allowances

The largest payment to the provinces was due to equalization payments under the Federal-Provincial Fiscal Arrangements Act.

Some of the large items in the all other expenditure are (a) charges of $1,327 million in respect of Government's contribution to Unemployment Insurance Account and $275 million in respect of payments for the purposes of providing employment, (b) net charges of $1,237 million for the postal services, (c) charges of $1,098 million in post-secondary education payments.

and other perquisites common to such services, are coded to standard object 1 and shown as separate line entries in the Estimates Details.

Other Personnel Costs

Includes all types of allowances paid to or in respect of continuing and term employees, such as living, terminable, foreign service, isolated post, and board and subsistence allowances, shift differential allowances, mileage and boot allowances to Post Office staff, allowances for assistants, and other such allowances. Also includes Minister's motor car allowances, and the expense allowances to senators and members of the House of Commons.

Also included in this group are the Government's contribution to the Public Service Superannuation Account, the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account, the Canada Pension Plan Account, the Quebec Pension Plan, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Account, the Canadian Forces Superannuation Account and the Members of Parliament Retiring Allowances Account; the Government's contribution to the Public Service and Regular Forces Death Benefit Accounts, and the Government's contribution as an employer to the Unemployment Insurance Fund.

2. Transportation and Communications

Includes travelling and transportation expenses of Government employees, members of the Canadian forces and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, removal expenses of those persons and their dependents, and living and other expenses of such persons on travel status; judges' travelling expenses, and travelling expenses and allowances payable to senators and members of the House of Commons. It also includes transportation of persons by contract and chartered facilities or by other means (automobile mileage, aeroplane fares, local transportation, etc.), including travelling expenses of persons engaged in field survey work, inspections and investigations. Also includes travelling and transportation of other than Government employees such as travel costs of veterans who are applicants for treatment or pensions.

Includes ordinary postage, air mail, registered mail, special delivery mail, post office box rentals, and any other postal charges.

Also includes the cost of transportation of goods other than initial delivery cost on a purchase (which is included in the object covering the cost of the purchase itself).

Includes all costs of communication services by telephone, telegram, cable, teletype, radio and wireless communications (tolls, rates, rentals, etc.) and other communication costs such as courier services provided by outside agencies, and communication services performed under contract or agreement.

3. Information

This standard object contains two main categories of costs:

Departmental Publications

Includes provision for the publication of departmental reports and other material, including information and educational bulletins and pamphlets; publications on scientific and technical matters, natural resources, statistics and other such material; Hansard and other parliamentary papers; maps, charts, etc. The costs of printing, binding, engraving, lithographing, artwork, mats, writers' fees, and other costs attributable to specific publication projects and programs are included hereunder, with the exception of those belonging under standard object 1. The costs of publications and material produced wholly within a service are distributed to the appropriate objects.

Advertising

Includes provision for advertising for publicity and general purposes, including advertising for tenders (except that charges directly arising from specific construction projects or purchases are included under such headings). It includes publication of proclamations, announcements, notices, etc., and various forms of educational and informational publicity, by broadcasting, posters, press and other means.

4. Professional and Special Services

Includes provision for all services performed by individuals or organizations outside the particular program such as: payments in the nature of fees, commissions, etc. for legal services, and for the services of architects, engineers, analysts, accountants, reporters, translators, doctors and nurses; payments for hospital treatment and care of veterans; payments for the provision of service by computer service bureau; and other

It includes armoured car service and other operational and maintenance services performed under contract other than those more properly classified under other items, such as repair and upkeep projects performed under contract, which are included in standard object 6.

5. Rentals

Includes provision for rentals of all kinds: rental of properties required for special purposes by the various departments and for the accommodation of government offices and services by the Department of Public Works; hire and charter—with or without crew—of vessels, aircraft, motor vehicles and other equipment; and rental of office equipment including computers. Storage and warehousing services is, however, in standard object 4 even though it involves the rental of space.

6. Purchased Repair and Upkeep

Provision is made in this standard object for the repair and upkeep under contract, of the types of durable physical assets provided for in standard object 8 below, and of equipment provided for in standard object 9 below. Materials, supplies and other charges entering into the cost of such repairs undertaken by a department directly are coded to other objects, according to the nature of the purchase.

Salaries and wages accounted for $6,257 million or 15% of total expenditure. The increase of $562 million was due mainly to higher salary rates.

Public debt charges totalled $5,550 million or 13% of the total. The increase of $829 million was due to an increase in unmatured debt and to higher interest rates.

The average interest rate on the unmatured debt increased from 7.53% at March 31, 1977 to 7.89% at March 31, 1978. Table 5.14 shows the liability for the public debt as at March 31 and interest charges for the year ended March 31, for the years 1974 to 1978 inclusive, and unmatured debt, deposit and trust accounts, annuity, insurance and pension accounts.

When considering the magnitude of public debt charges and the burden they place upon the public treasury, it must be borne in mind that a substantial portion of the debt is attributable to, or is invested in, productive or earning assets. Therefore, in calculating the net burden of the government's annual interest charges, the income derived from loans, investments and other productive assets must be taken into account. For 1977-78 this income totalled $2,585 million as shown in the non-tax revenue section under the heading "return on investments". This amount deducted from the gross total of $5,540 million for interest as shown in Table 5.15 leaves a net amount of $2,955 million compared with a net amount of $2,221 million in 1976-77. Measured as a percentage of the net debt the burden of the net annual interest charges was 7.46% in 1977-78 compared with 7.50% in 1976-77. As a percentage of the gross national product of the calendar year ending within the fiscal year, the relative burden was 1.41% compared with 1.16% in 1976-77.

Fiscal transfer payments

This program provides funds for payments to provincial governments under the British North America Acts, the Federal-Provincial Fiscal Arrangements Act, the Public Utilities Income Tax Transfer Act, and other statutory authorities.

Charges to budgetary expenditure were $462 million under the Established Programs (Interim Arrangements) Act in respect of the Province of Quebec in compensation to that province for its opting out of the following programs: hospital insurance and diagnostic services, old age assistance, disabled persons allowances, blind persons allowances, unemployment assistance and Canada assistance plan; and in part, the general health grants program.

Subsidies to provinces payable under the British North America Acts and other statutory authority were $34 million.

The transfer of certain public utility tax receipts was $46 million and represented the transferable portion of income tax received from corporations whose main business was the distribution to, or generation for distribution to, the public, of electrical energy, gas and steam.

Contracting-out payments

The Federal-Provincial Fiscal Revision Act 1964, provides that where the federal savings exceeds the federal revenue abatement of a province providing schooling allowances after April 1, 1964, for the taxation year ending in a fiscal year, the Minister of Finance may pay to that province, out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund, the amount equal to the excess, or if the federal revenue abatement exceeds the federal savings, the amount of the excess may be deducted from any payment to that province under the Federal-Provincial Fiscal Arrangements Act, or under any subsequent Act substituted therefore, or may be otherwise recovered as a debt due to Canada by a province. The abatement for the taxation year 1977 and the revised abatement for the taxation year 1976 in respect of the Province of Quebec exceeded the federal savings by $122 million which has been recovered from payments to the province under the Federal-Provincial Fiscal Arrangements Act.

In addition to the above payments, $6,014 million in provincial income taxes collected by the federal government on

(1) Less than $500,000.

(2) Results from Department of External Affairs' authority in Votes 10 and 10b to pay assessments in the amounts and in the currencies in which they are levied, and to pay other amounts specified in the currencies of the countries indicated, notwithstanding that the total of such payments may exceed the equivalent in Canadian dollars, estimated as of January and October 1974.

Note: In 1977-78 for comparative purposes, the 1976-77 figures have been adjusted, the employer contribution to the Unemployment Insurance Account in respect of Government employees was charged to each department. In previous years the cost was entirely reflected in Treasury Board's budgetary expenditures.

NON-BUDGETARY TRANSACTIONS

(excluding unmatured debt transactions)

Non-budgetary transactions lead to the acquisition or disposal of financial claims or to the creation or discharge of financial obligation. The discussion of non-budgetary transactions in this section excludes unmatured debt transactions as well as changes in the cash position, which are given in Section 7. The balances of asset and liability accounts at the beginning and end of the year and the effect of non-budgetary transactions during the year, are examined in Section 8.

Loans, investments and advances—Crown corporations

In 1977-78, the lending institutions received $1,801 million or 54% of the loans, investments and advances to Crown corporations and agencies. This pattern was similar to that in 1976-77 when the same five corporations noted below received 70% of all loans, investments and advances in Crown corporations. The amounts for individual corporations are shown in Table 6.2.

Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation

The objectives of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation are "to promote the construction of new houses, the repair and modernization of existing houses, and the improvement of housing and living conditions in Canada". To fulfil these objectives, the Corporation borrows large sums of money from the Government and relends these sums to borrowers engaged in housing activities.

The greater part of the Corporation's borrowing is to obtain funds for direct lending for home-ownership and rental housing, including loans to limited dividend companies to finance low-rental housing projects, and loans for public housing projects. Its borrowing for these purposes is authorized by the National Housing Act, 1954, as amended.

The Corporation also borrowed in 1977-78 to finance municipal sewage treatment projects, university housing, federal-provincial housing projects and urban renewal.

The transactions described in this section which affect assets, consist mainly of loans, investments and advances to and repayments by Crown corporations and other government agencies, national, provincial and municipal bodies, and other borrowers. Transactions affecting liabilities relate to annuity, insurance and pension accounts and deposit and trust accounts held or administered by the government. The receipts and payments by main categories of non-budgetary accounts, in 1977-78 and 1976-77 other than those for unmatured debt and cash are summarized in Table 6.1.

Export Development Corporation

The Export Development Corporation borrows under the Export Development Act, which aims at facilitating and developing trade between Canada and other countries.

Farm Credit Corporation

The Farm Credit Corporation borrows to make loans to farmers and to syndicates of farmers and to perform operational and administrative functions related to the organization of Canadian agriculture into economic farm units in the hands of competent operators.

Federal Business Development Bank

The Federal Business Development Bank promotes and assists the establishment and development of business enterprises in Canada by providing financial assistance, management counselling, management training information and advice.

Municipal Development and Loan Board Advances

Under the Municipal Development and Loan Act, advances were made to the Municipal Development and Loan Board to enable it to lend to municipalities for the augmentation or acceleration of municipal capital work programs. These advances are now being repaid.

⁽¹⁾ Includes $1,569 million in 1977-78 and $1,489 million in 1976-77 of provincial government securities purchased by the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund.

Canada Pension Plan Account

The Canada Pension Plan was established by the Canada Pension Plan Act which was proclaimed on May 5, 1965. The Plan is financed by contributions of 1.8% of income on earnings of employees, with matching contributions by employers, and by contributions of 3.6% of the income of self-employed persons, (subject to a maximum payment of $169.20). Contributions are payable by employees and self employed persons earning over $1,000 per year. The Plan also receives investment income. The rise in investment income was mainly a result of the increased investments.

The benefits payable under the Canada Pension Plan are retirement pensions, survivors' benefits payable to widows, disabled widowers and to orphans, or as a lump sum death benefit, and disability pensions. Retirement pensions were payable at their full rate January 1, 1976, ten years after the Plan first received contributions.

The pensions, other benefits and expenses of the Plan are as yet, still small in relation to receipts. The greater part of the Plans' receipts is invested in bonds issued by the provincial governments to the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund under the legislation governing the Plan which provides that funds not required for benefits and expenses in the following three-month period are to be made available as loans to provincial governments and shared by them in the same proportions as their residents contribute to the Plan. Any sums not borrowed by the provinces are invested in bonds of Canada. Placements in 1977-78 were $1,569 million of provincial bonds and $11 million of bonds of the Government of Canada compared with $1,489 million and $11 million respectively in 1976-77. The remaining balances of $87 million in 1976-77 and $82 million in 1977-78 were placed on deposit with the Receiver General.

Superannuation Accounts

The superannuation accounts include the Public Service superannuation account, the Canadian Forces superannuation account and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police superannuation account. These accounts are credited with contributions from personnel, matching contributions from the government, and other government contributions related to actuarial liability adjustments determined by periodical actuarial examinations, and interest. The debits were payments of pensions, matured annuities, commuted values, death benefits, premium and refund withdrawals.

Unamortized portions of actuarial deficiencies

These accounts record the unamortized portions of the actuarial deficiency adjustments in the three superannuation accounts. Actuarial valuations are made quinquennially, the next of which will be made effective December 31, 1977, for the Public Service superannuation account, December 31, 1975, for the Canadian Forces superannuation account, and December 31, 1979, for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police superannuation account. Any actuarial deficiencies revealed will be credited to the superannuation accounts and charged to unamortized portions of actuarial deficiencies and amortized to budgetary expenditure in five equal annual instalments commencing in the years for which the reports are laid before Parliament. The cost of benefits payable under the superannuation acts as a result of the authorisation of salary increases, is credited to the superannuation accounts and charged to the unamortized portions of actuarial deficiencies, and amortized to budgetary expenditure over a period of five years commencing in the year in which the increases are authorized.

Amendments to the superannuation regulations provide for the calculation of interest at a revised rate (related to the Canada Pension Plan interest rate) commencing with the quarter ended September 30, 1969. The Act provided that the amount by which the interest calculated at the revised rate exceeds the amount of interest calculated at the rate used in the latest actuarial report may be used to reduce the amortization of actuarial deficiencies in budgetary expenditures.

The unamortized portion of the actuarial deficiency in the Public Service superannuation account was $764 million compared with $841 million at March 31, 1977. During the year, $306 million was charged thereto as salary increases and $383 million was amortized as a charge to budgetary expenditure, to which $279 million of interest on public debt was credited.

The unamortized portion of the actuarial deficiency in the Canadian Forces superannuation account was $664 million compared with $811 million at March 31, 1977. During the year $264 million was charged thereto as salary increases and $411 million was amortized as a charge to budgetary expenditure, to which $240 million of interest on public debt was credited.

The unamortized portion of the actuarial deficiency in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police superannuation account was $82 million compared with $71 million at March 31, 1977. During the year, $46 million was charged thereto as salary increases and $35 million was amortized as a charge to budgetary expenditure, to which $20 million of interest on public debt was credited.

Government annuities account

The Government Annuities Act provides that an account shall be kept of all moneys received and paid out under the provisions of the Act. The credits consist of premiums, funds reclaimed from Consolidated Revenue Fund for previously unlocated annuitants, earned interest and items transferred from previous years revenue to cover the actuarial deficit. Debits were comprised of matured annuities, the commuted value of death benefits, premium refunds and premium withdrawal payments.

Other insurance and pension accounts

There are a number of other insurance and pension accounts operated by the Government. Transactions on behalf of the Public Service death benefit account, the regular forces death benefit account and the veterans insurance fund account for the greater part of the transactions of these accounts.

Other Non-Budgetary Transactions

Cash in transit

Cash in transit includes the Receiver General current deposits in banks in Canada and other countries, non-interest-bearing special deposits, other special deposits in the hands of fiscal agents of the Government for the purchase or redemption of government securities and payment of interest, money in transit from the public officers, postmasters and others on March 31, 1978.

Unemployment Insurance Account

The Unemployment Insurance Act, 1955, as amended, provided for a compulsory contributory unemployment insurance program applying to everyone employed under a contract of service, subject to certain exceptions. The main exceptions were members of the Armed Forces and of the federal, provincial and local government services, and persons earning over $7,800 per annum.

The Unemployment Insurance Act, 1971, which was assented June 23, 1971, replaced the former Act. Under the new Act, the exceptions noted above were removed and all employment in Canada (with minor exceptions) is insurable effective January 2, 1972.

The new Act also authorized the establishment, in the accounts of Canada, of an account to be known as the Unemployment Insurance Account and directed that the balance of the amount standing to the credit of the Unemployment Insurance Fund under the former Act, on June 27, 1971, together with interest accrued thereon to that day, be credited thereto.

The Act also provides that all amounts received under the Act as or on account of premiums, fines, penalties, interest and repayment of overpayments of benefits, and all amounts collected by the Commission for services rendered to other government departments or agencies or the public, shall be paid into the Consolidated Revenue Fund and shall be credited to the Unemployment Insurance Account; that any other amounts provided out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund for any purpose related to unemployment insurance that is authorized by an appropriation by Parliament and the administration of which falls to the Commission, shall be credited to the Unemployment Insurance Account; that the Minister of Finance may authorize, in accordance with such terms and conditions and at such rates as he may prescribe, the payment of interest on the balance in the Unemployment Insurance Account, and such interest shall be credited to the account; and that there shall be charged to the account all amounts paid as or on account of benefits under this Act and the costs of administration of the Act.

Maximum weekly employee premiums were $3.60 in 1977 and 1978 depending upon the contributor's income. For the same periods, maximum weekly benefits were $147.00 and $160.00.

To finance the 1977-78 operations in the Account, temporary advances of $190 million were made by the government.

Other liabilities are: interest and matured debt, accounts payable and accrued salaries, outstanding cheques, warrants and money orders, provincial tax collection agreements account, undisbursed balances of appropriations to special accounts, deposit and trust and securities held in trust accounts.

The provincial tax collection agreements account records transactions arising from federal-provincial tax collection agreements. During 1977-78 the Government of Canada collected $6,014 million of provincial income taxes on behalf of provincial governments of which $5,216 million were personal income tax and $798 million were corporation income tax. In the same period, payments to the provinces of $5,684 million were $330 million less than receipts. This amount is reduced to a final balance of $259 million by the recovery of the overpayment of $71 million which was classified as loans to provinces at the end of 1976-77.

The other non-budgetary transactions are shown in Table 6.10.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE TRANSACTIONS

Exchange Fund Account and International Monetary Fund

Foreign exchange reserve transactions, shown in Table 6.11, consist of advances to the Exchange Fund Account to enable it to acquire foreign currency, repayments of such advances by the Exchange Fund Account and transactions with the International Monetary Fund including subscriptions to its capital, the receipt and disposal of Special Drawing Rights (SDR's) and the issue and redemption of non-interest-bearing notes. These transactions are undertaken either to finance increases in the official international reserves of Canada or to convert these reserves into Canadian dollars. While the Receiver General's deposits in foreign currency are included in Canada's official international reserves, the transactions influencing these deposits are excluded because they are mainly payments abroad for goods, services, pensions, interest and similar items and not transactions which involved conversion between Canadian dollar assets and those foreign currency assets included in Canada's official international reserves.⁽¹⁾

In 1977-78, debits consisted of advances to the Exchange Fund Account in the amount of $18,975 million and a revaluation adjustment of $133 million in respect of the Special Drawing Right holdings, while repayments were $19,356 million resulting in a net decrease of $248 million. The advances of $18,975 million included $750 million US valued at $850 million Cdn ($1 US = $1.1339 Cdn). Transactions with the International Monetary Fund included revaluation adjustments totaling $310 million due to the depreciation of the Canadian dollar to March 31, 1978. Canada's capital subscription is set in SDR units of the account so that when the Canadian dollar depreciates additional Canadian dollars must be supplied to the Fund to maintain value of the Canadian dollar holdings in terms of SDRs and when the Canadian dollar appreciates the converse applies. Obligations totaling $159 million were incurred for this reason in 1977-78 and Canada's subscription was revalued by a further $151 million to recognize the increase in the Canadian dollar value of that portion of the subscription which is not offset by IMF holdings of Canadian dollars.

If the fund does not require a currency, a portion of a member's quota may be paid in the form of non-interest-bearing notes payable on demand. These notes are recorded in the government's liabilities.

Non-interest-bearing notes were increased by a net amount of $260 million⁽²⁾ due mainly to other countries' dealings in Canadian dollars with the Fund.

There was no allocation of Special Drawing Rights by the International Monetary Fund to Canada during the year, however the historically recorded amount of $370 million of SDR's was revalued by $133 million resulting in a March 31, 1978, balance of $503 million to reflect current exchange rates. These SDR's were in turn advanced to the Exchange Fund.

The transactions just described are those through which the Government of Canada financed additions to Canada's official international reserves, other than the Receiver General's working balances in foreign currency, in 1977-78. The change in the Receiver General's foreign currency deposits was relatively small when compared with the transactions just described. Subject to this exception, the net effect of these transactions was to decrease advances of the Government of Canada by $197 million in 1977-78 as compared with a net decrease of $1,283 million in 1976-77.

Other Foreign Transactions

The non-interest-bearing notes payable include portions of Canada's quota in the capital of international agencies not covered by securities. The unmatured debt payable in foreign currency is payable in US dollars.

⁽²⁾ $111 million of this amount represents an accrued liability in respect of the maintenance of value payment, paid in this amount on April 28, 1978-79.

FINANCING OPERATIONS OF THE GOVERNMENT

In 1977-78, the Government of Canada issued $41,342 million and retired $32,294 million of bonds, Treasury bills and notes payable, and, in addition, increased its holding of unmatured debt by $21 million. These operations provided $9,027 million as compared with $4,810 million in 1976-77, to finance operations and to increase cash balances.

As shown in Table 7.1, there were net sales of $3,439 million of marketable bonds, $1,707 million of Canada savings bonds, $12 million of non-marketable bonds issued to the Canada Pension Plan investment fund, and $3,040 million of Treasury bills.

During 1977-78, the Government entered into a 7 year Revolving Standby Credit Facility Agreement for $1,500 million US with the Canadian chartered banks. An amount of $750 million US, equivalent to $850 Cdn, was borrowed.

Marketable bonds

As shown in Table 7.2, there were seven issues of bonds payable in Canadian dollars during the year. The proceeds were used partly to redeem maturing debt. The table shows no significant change in interest rates on the new issues.

THE PUBLIC DEBT

The public debt of Canada consists of all liabilities which appear on the Government's Statement of Assets and Liabilities. In addition, the Government has certain indirect or contingent liabilities, such as the guarantee of securities of the Canadian National Railways, insured loans made by approved lending institutions under the National Housing Act and deposits maintained by the chartered banks in the Bank of Canada.

There were net increases of $9,027 million in unmatured debt, $2,006 million in annuity, insurance and pension account balances, $1,321 million in foreign liabilities and $1,474 million in other liability accounts. Unmatured debt in the amount of $51,385 million was 64% and annuity, insurance and pension accounts in the amount of $18,167 million were 23%, of total liabilities. At March 31, 1977, unmatured debt was $42,358 million or 63% and annuity, insurance and pension accounts were $16,161 million or 24% of total liabilities.

Net recorded assets

At March 31, 1978 the Government's net recorded assets totalled $40,426 million, $2,937 million higher than they were at March 31, 1977. The main changes were increases of $1,101 million in loans, investments and advances and increases of $613 million in other assets, of $314 million in foreign assets, and of $909 million in cash balances.

Loans, investments and advances totalled $26,455 million or 65%, of which loans to Crown corporations and agencies accounted for $21,520 million. Other assets were $4,123 million or 10% of the total and foreign assets totalled $5,888 million or 15%. At March 31, 1977, loans, investments and advances totalled $25,354 million or 68% of which loans to Crown corporations and agencies accounted for $20,440 million. Other assets were $3,510 million or 9% of the total and foreign assets totalled $5,574 million or 15%.

Net debt

The net debt of Canada is represented by the excess of recorded liabilities over net recorded assets.

As recorded liabilities increased by $12,973 million during 1977-78 and net recorded assets increased by $2,937 million, net debt increased by $10,036 million. The net debt at March 31, 1978 was $39,622 million compared with $29,586 million at March 31, 1977. The increase was the result of the budgetary deficit of $10,036 million.

The net debt in per capita terms and as a percentage of the gross national product is shown in the following table. The net debt per capita was $808 at March 31, 1974, compared with $1,705 at March 31, 1978. Expressed as a percentage of gross national product, the net debt which was 14.8% at March 31, 1974 was 18.9% at March 31, 1978.

Interest rates

The average interest rate on the Government's unmatured debt was 7.89% at March 31, 1978. At March 31, 1977 it was 7.53%.

The following table sets out the unmatured debt at March 31, for each of the years 1973-74 to 1977-78 inclusive, with the average rate of interest thereon. For purposes of comparison the unmatured debt is classified as to marketable bonds, non-marketable bonds, (which includes Canada savings bonds and the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund), Treasury bills and notes payable to Canadian banks.

The average rate on marketable bonds was 7.65% at March 31, 1978 compared with 6.27% at March 31, 1977 and for Treasury bills was 7.19% compared with 8.01%.

Interest rates on new issues of marketable bonds varied from a low of 7.50% to a high of 9.50% during the year.

THE CASH POSITION OF THE GOVERNMENT

The Government's cash account represents balances of current and special deposits to the credit of the Receiver General for Canada in the Bank of Canada, chartered banks in Canada and certain banks in London, New York, Brussels, Bonn, Frankfurt and Rome.

The cash position of the Government is affected not only by budgetary operations but also by unmatured debt, non-budgetary and foreign exchange operations. Non-budgetary, foreign exchange operations and unmatured debt affect the Government's asset and liability accounts and must be taken into account when considering the full scope of the Government's financial operations.

On the asset side, non-budgetary and foreign exchange operations consist, for the most part, of loans and advances to, and repayment by Crown corporations and agencies, provincial, national and municipal governments, international organizations and other borrowers.

On the liability side, they relate mainly to receipts and payments in annuity, insurance and pension accounts and in deposit and trust accounts and other liabilities.

During 1977-78 total cash receipts from all government transactions totalled $109,677 million and total cash payments were $108,768 million, bringing the total balances in Receiver General bank accounts to $4,506 million at March 31, 1978. Of this balance $4,487 million was on deposit in Canada and $19 million in foreign countries.

Non-budgetary payments and other charges totalled $32,829 million in 1977-78 and included $6,303 million for loans, investments and advances, $4,077 million for annuity, insurance and pension accounts, $5,684 million under provincial tax collection agreements, $7,526 million for other assets and $9,239 million for sundry other accounts.

Foreign exchange payments and other charges totalled $19,872 million of which $19,108 million were repayments of advances from the Exchange Fund Account.

Non-budgetary receipts and other credits totalled $34,595 million of which $5,202 million were for loans, investments and advances, $6,083 million for annuity, insurance and pension accounts, $5,943 million for the provincial tax collection agreements account, $6,913 million for other assets and $10,454 million for sundry other accounts.

Foreign exchange receipts and other credits totalled $20,879 million of which $19,356 million represented advances to the Exchange Fund Account.

Details of these operations are given in Section 6 of this volume.

As is shown in Table 7.9, operations in unmatured debt furnished a net amount of $8,172 million of which $7,263 million was used for cash requirements. The remainder, $909 million, increased the government's available cash to $4,506 million at March 31, 1978.

During 1977-78 Canadian cash balances increased by $906 million from $3,581 million at the end of 1976-77 to $4,487 million at the end of 1977-78 and ranged from a low of $1,842 million at the end of September 1977, to a high of $5,177 million at the end of February 1978.

The implication of the level of government cash balances at any given time can be misinterpreted because of the wide fluctuations throughout the year, as is illustrated in the following table. Furthermore, because many cheques are issued at month end and are not redeemed until the following month, and the bulk of receipts are not received until later, cash balances may drop in the early days of a month by as much as $125 to $300 million.

ASSET AND LIABILITY ACCOUNTS

The Statement of the Assets and Liabilities of Canada, as examined by the Auditor General, is presented in Section 2 of this volume and shows the balance of each of the principal classifications of accounts at March 31, 1978, the corresponding balance at March 31, 1977, and the net increase or decrease during the year. A general description of each category of asset and liability account as it appears on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities can be found in this section. In addition, the detailed schedules of these accounts with their supporting notes are presented in this section. A description of the structure and more significant features of the Statement of Assets and Liabilities is given in Section 2 of this volume.

Definition of assets and liabilities

Assets are defined as the financial claims acquired by the Government of Canada on outside organizations and individuals as a result of events and transactions prior to the accounting date. Liabilities are defined as financial obligations to outside organizations and individuals as a result of events and transactions prior to the accounting date.

However, as a result of the Government's accounting policies and practices described above, and in accordance with the provisions of the Financial Administration Act, certain financial claims and obligations are not reported on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

The most important types of financial claims not so reported are the accounts receivable both for tax and non-tax revenue. Similarly, the financial obligations not so reported include: accounts payable for goods and services received in the year but not paid within thirty days from the end of the year; accounts payable related to statutory appropriations; accrued liabilities for certain retroactive salary and wage settlements, for unpaid overtime, annual vacation and unused sick leave, and for benefits payable upon termination of employment; actuarial liabilities arising from the indexing to the cost of living of supernnuate pensions and annuities.

The Statement of Assets and Liabilities includes, however, certain balances of accounts internal to the Government (Note 7) which will continue to be reported until parliamentary authority to delete them from the accounts of Canada has been obtained.

Summary

The net recorded assets totalled $40,426 million at March 31, 1978, an increase of $2,937 million over the total of $37,489 million at March 31, 1977. The main changes were increases of $1,101 million in loans, investments and advances, $613 million in other assets and $314 million in foreign assets.

The gross liabilities of the government totalled $80,048 million at March 31, 1978, an increase of $12,973 million over the total of $67,075 million at March 31, 1977. The main changes were increases of $8,172 million in the unmatured debt payable in Canadian currency, $1,749 million in net superannuation accounts and $1,321 million in foreign liabilities.

The excess of recorded liabilities over net recorded assets was $39,622 million at March 31, 1978 compared with $29,586 million at March 31, 1977. The increase of $10,036 million reflected the budgetary deficit for the year.

A summarized Statement of the Assets and Liabilities of the Government of Canada as at March 31, 1978, with comparative figures as at March 31, 1977, and the net increase or decrease during the year, is presented in Table 8.1.

Further details may be found in Section 6 "Non-budgetary and foreign exchange transactions" and Section 7 "Financing operations of the government, public debt and cash position" as well as in the schedules to the Statement of Assets and Liabilities and explanatory notes thereto in this section.

The Statement of Assets and Liabilities has been prepared in accordance with the concept that assets are financial claims acquired by the Government of Canada on outside parties and liabilities are its financial obligations to outside parties. The deferred expenditure charges and accounts internal to the Government are not in keeping with this concept. To arrive at the gross liabilities of the Government, the amounts are adjusted as shown in the following table:

Total Government equity represents the loans, advances and shareholder's equity as recorded in the accounts of Canada and/or the audited financial statements of Crown corporations, at their respective year-ends, after adjustments for transactions with the corporations from their year-end dates to March 31, 1978. These financial statements are included in Volume III of the 1978 Public Accounts of Canada.

Unrecorded Government equity is divided into three headings. The first one pertains to loans and advances and consists of capitalized interest shown in the corporate financial statements under loans payable to Canada and accrued interest usually shown as accounts payable and accruals under current liabilities. The second heading, shareholder's equity, includes that portion of the equity of the corporation that is not recorded in the accounts of Canada such as retained earnings, accumulated deficits and contributed surpluses. An example of a contributed surplus would be the cost of fixed assets acquired by the corporation, financed through parliamentary appropriations and charged to budgetary expenditures in the accounts of Canada. Under this second heading are also included certain amounts such as receivables from the Government, deferred federal taxes, premiums on shares, amounts shown as loans owing to Canada but charged to budgetary expenditures, and other Crown corporation balance sheet accounts that are considered as equity adjustments for consolidation purposes. The third heading, other unrecorded equity, consists primarily of insurance funds as described in notes ⁽²⁾ and ⁽⁵⁾ below. These funds are not included in the equity accounts of the two corporations involved. Other amounts included under this heading include liabilities to Canada for capitalized leases and amounts received through parliamentary appropriations.

⁽²⁾ Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation—Consists of premiums credited to the Deposit Insurance Fund plus accumulated net earnings. The deposits with members institutions insured by the Corporation totalled $66,219 million as at December 31, 1977.

⁽⁶⁾ Eldorado Nuclear Limited—Recorded capital stock includes a premium of $1,660,797 representing the capital deficit (after adjustments) shown in the balance sheet of Eldorado Mining and Refining as at December 31, 1944 but not reflected in subsequent balance sheets of Eldorado Mining and Refining (1944) Limited. Consequently, unrecorded shareholder's equity has been reduced by $1,660,797. Total Government equity includes that of Eldorado Aviation Limited, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Eldorado Nuclear Limited.

⁽⁷⁾ St Lawrence Seaway Authority—Includes in its equity $1,500 of Great Lakes Pilotage Authority Ltd capital stock. Great Lakes Pilotage Authority Ltd is a wholly-owned subsidiary.

⁽⁸⁾ Uranium Canada Limited—Excludes stockpiling of uranium concentrates shown in Schedule I for $90,694,353.

Northern Tar Chemical and Wood Limited 223,977

PC 1977—4/2692 September 22, 1977, authorized the remission of $195,022 in income tax plus interest of $28,955 in respect of the 1974 taxation year.

The above company was reassessed in March 1977 to include in income a Capital gain realized on the sale of all of the outstanding shares of its wholly owned subsidiary, Northern Wood Preservers Limited.

A remission was granted on the recommendation of the Minister of Finance and the Treasury Board on the basis that under the law in force at the time the transaction occurred, no capital gain would have arisen.

Pinard, Léo-Paul 1,046

PC 1977—13/1368, May 12, 1977, authorized the remission of $1,046 income tax payable in respect of the 1971 taxation year.

The taxpayer did not claim any logging tax credit for the years 1971 to 1974 but in September, 1975, filed amended returns for those years.

The logging tax assessment was not issued by Quebec until April 1976 and an audit was not performed by the district office until July, 1976 by which time the 1971 return was statute—barred.

As the taxpayer requested a refund within the 4 year period and no waiver was asked for by the Department, a remission of $1,046 was recommended.

Rinde Investments Limited 2,695

PC 1977—11/2916 October 13, 1977 authorized the remission of $2,695 in income tax plus interest in respect of the 1969 Taxation Year.

In 1970 the taxpayer was reassessed in respect of a gain on a rental property to include the gain in income. At this time the balance of a 1966 operating loss was applied to 1968. In 1973 the reassessment was reversed due to a Tax Appeal Board decision but the Department failed to reapply the balance of the 1966 loss to the 1969 year as claimed by the taxpayer. The taxpayer appealed the 1967 reassessment only and not the 1969 reassessment. In December 1974 the taxpayer advised by letter that the 1966 loss had not been applied to 1969 but no action was taken until early in 1977 by which time 1969 was statute barred.

Since the Department erred for failing to follow through for 1969 due to the Tax Appeal Board's decision a remission was recommended.

Singer, Vernon

PC 1977—16/1450 May 19, 1977, authorized the remission of income tax equal to all amounts payable by him under the Income Tax Act for 1977 less all amounts that would be payable by him thereunder if subsection 146(8) thereof were not applicable to an amount of $2,525 received by him in 1977 as a benefit out of or under a Registered Savings Plan to the extent that the said amount is so received by the taxpayer.

The taxpayer established a Registered Retirement Savings Plan as a self—employed lawyer. Subsequently, he became a member of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario and was required to contribute to a registered pension fund in which the Province matched his contributions.

In 1972 and 1973, he made contributions of $4,000 to his Registered Retirement Savings Plan and claimed the full contributions as a deduction on his income tax returns. He relied on the reasoning of a Tax Appeal Board Case of 1968 and the Department assessed him as filed even though he was entitled only to a maximum deduction of $2,500 which would include both the Registered Retirement Savings Plan and Registered Pension Fund.

In 1974, the proper maximum deduction of $2,500 was allowed. When the taxpayer queried this deduction, the Department became aware that the above-mentioned Tax Appeal Board case had been reversed.

Since the taxpayer was misled by the Department's erroneous assessments prior to 1974, no reassessments were processed for the taxation years 1972 and 1973.

A withdrawal of $2,525 was made from his Registered Retirement Savings Plan in 1977. A remission is granted of the extra federal tax payable due to this withdrawal as the results would be double taxation

Agricultural Stabilization Board
(Established by the Agricultural Stabilization Act)

 OTTAWA, ONTARIO
 JUNE 15, 1978

THE CHAIRMAN AND MEMBERS
 AGRICULTURAL STABILIZATION BOARD
 OTTAWA, ONTARIO

I have examined the statement of expenditure of the Agricultural Stabilization Board for the year ended March 31, 1978. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances except that, with respect to the cattle deficiency payments shown in the statement of expenditure in the amount of $37,690,951, I was unable to examine the documents supporting claims as they had been returned to the producers.

In my opinion, except for the effect of adjustments which might have been required had I been able to examine the documents supporting claims with respect to the cattle deficiency payments, the statement of expenditure presents fairly the results of the Board for the year ended March 31, 1978, in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 1, applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

J. J. MACDONELL

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENT
MARCH 31, 1978

1. Significant accounting policies

(a) Expenditure

Expenditure is recorded on a cash basis modified to include payments in April relating to work performed, goods received or services rendered prior to March 31, which basis is consistent with that used by departments of the Government of Canada.

(b) Services provided without charge

An estimated amount for services provided without charge by government departments is included in the statement.

(c) Fixed assets

Purchases of furniture and equipment are recorded as an administration expense in the year of acquisition.

(d) Employee termination benefits

Termination benefits accrue to employees over their service period. Payments of these benefits are made to the employees on separation or retirement and are expensed by the Board when paid.

2. Payments to the Canadian Dairy Commission

Payments by the Canadian Dairy Commission for the stabilization of the price of milk for the benefit of producers are paid to producers approximately two months after entitlement. The Commission changed its method of obtaining funds from the Agricultural Stabilization Board on April 1, 1976. The Commission drew funds prior to this date during the month of entitlement and subsequent to this date during the month of payment to producers. This change in method resulted in the Commission obtaining funds for twelve payments during 1977-78 whereas in 1976-77 funds for only ten payments were obtained. Comparable amounts for a twelve-month period were $293,580,000 for 1977-78 and $273,982,297 for 1976-77.

3. Comparative figures

Certain figures for the previous year have been restated to conform to the current year's presentation.

1. Authority and Purpose

The Agriculture Revolving Fund was authorized under Appropriation Act No. 4, 1970, for the purpose of financing the production of new and improved varieties of seeds, and the acquisition, maintenance and development for experimental purposes of livestock, poultry and eggs, including administrative expenses of authorized projects. On April 23, 1970, the Treasury Board designated the Agriculture Revolving Fund as a working capital advance. A significant portion of the cost of projects financed is provided for by appropriations from Parliament as a free service to the Fund.

The amount that can be advanced as working capital at any one time is limited to $1,820,000. No interest is charged on outstanding advances.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS MARCH 31, 19781. Authority and Purpose

The Revolving Fund was established by Agriculture Vote L1B, Appropriation Act. No. 1, 1970 for the purpose of providing race track supervision in Canada. Charges to the Fund are to include all administration expenses of race track supervision, as well as costs of research relating to the use of drugs on horses and race surveillance techniques, including the publication, distribution and sale of the results of such research. All revenues from activities approved by the Treasury Board are to be credited to the Fund, with a maximum of $2,000,000 to be retained for use in the current and subsequent years. A maximum of $200,000 may be drawn from the Consolidated Revenue Fund as working capital.

2. Significant Accounting Policies(a) Accounting basis

The accounts are recorded on an accrual basis except that no provision is made in the accounts for accrued vacation pay and termination benefits (see notes 4 and 5)

(b) Fixed Assets

Fixed assets transferred from parliamentary appropriations prior to April 1, 1970, are recorded in the Fund in accordance with Treasury Board Circular 1970-7, at values determined as at that date by officers of the Department. Acquisition subsequent to April 1, 1970 are recorded at cost.

Depreciation is charged on a straight line basis using rates of 10% for furniture and equipment, 20% for desk-top computers and 33% for motor vehicles.

3. Advances from Canada

Advances are made by Canada to the Fund for the purchase of fixed assets and repayment is made each year equal to the depreciation taken on fixed assets in that year. Interest is paid at rates determined by the Minister of Finance.

4. Vacation Pay

No provision has been made for vacation pay earned but not yet taken by employees, estimated at $94,200 as at March 31, 1978 ($76,400 at March 31, 1977). This will not be an extra cost to the Fund when, in the normal course of operations, these vacations are taken in subsequent years and recorded as salaries and wages expenditure.

5. Termination Benefits

Termination benefits accrue to employees over their years of service with the Government of Canada. Employees leaving Government service generally receive termination benefits at the rate of one week's pay for each complete year of continuous service to a maximum of twenty-eight week's pay. However, upon resignation, benefits are generally payable only to those with ten or more years continuous service, and the entitlement is reduced to one-half week's pay for each year of continuous employment to a maximum of thirteen weeks' pay.

Revolving Fund employees, being part of the Public Service, earn termination benefits for their total years of continuous employment in the Fund and elsewhere in the Government. New employees hired from within the Government bring their entitlement with them while employees who leave the Fund for other Government employment take along their termination benefit entitlement.

The Fund records termination benefits when payments are made. No provision has been made for benefits accruing to employees, with an estimated value of 140,200 as at March 31, 1978 (107,900 at March 31, 1977). This consists of one week's pay at current salary rates for each complete year of Government service up to and including March 31, 1978, to a maximum of twenty-eight weeks' pay per employee.

6. Contributed Capital

This represents the value of fixed assets acquired from parliamentary appropriations prior to April 1, 1970 and transferred to the Revolving Fund without charge.

7. Retained Earnings

During the year, Parliament approved Agriculture Vote L21B which authorizes the retention of earnings in the Fund of up to $2,000,000. Profits in previous years were transferred to the Receiver General for Canada as non-tax revenue.

Canadian Grain Commission—Concluded

FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 1978

1. Commission Objective

The Canadian Grain Commission operates under section 3 of the Canada Grain Act (1970) to establish and maintain high standards of quality for Canadian grain, and to regulate grain handling in Canada so as to achieve maximum acceptability of Canadian grain in domestic and export markets.

2. Accounting policies

Receipts
The revenue accounts of the Commission are maintained on a cash basis which is consistent with that used by departments of the Government of Canada. Receipts are credited to the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Expenditures
Operating and capital expenditures of the Commission are charged to operations and recovered from parliamentary appropriations provided for that purpose. These expenditures are recorded on a cash basis modified to include payments in April relating to work performed, goods received or services rendered prior to March 31, in accordance with section 30 of the Financial Administration Act. Operating expenditures also include non-budgetary services of other Government departments for which there is no direct payment.

3. Canadian Grain Commission Weigh-over Account

The Canadian Grain Commission Working Capital Advance was authorized with an effective date of April 1, 1975 by Privy Council 1975-76-519, March 9, 1975. In addition to the provision of drawing an advance of up to $500,000 from the Consolidated Revenue Fund to cover internal Weigh-over shortages, the authorization includes the netting of weigh-over shortages and overages.
The accounts are maintained on an accrual basis.
The transactions of the Canadian Grain Commission Weigh-over Accounts for the year ended March 31, 1978, are as follows:

Government Telecommunications Agency Revolving Fund
(Authorized by Vote L20, Appropriation Act No. 5, 1963, 1963, c. 42)

 Ottawa, Ontario
 August 25, 1978

THE HONOURABLE JEANNE SAUVÉ, P.C., M.P., MINISTER OF COMMUNICATIONS,
 OTTAWA, ONTARIO

I have examined the balance sheet of the Government Telecommunications Agency Revolving Fund as at March 31, 1978 and the statements of operations and retained earnings and changes in financial position for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

As explained in Note 5 to the financial statements, the Agency has not recorded in its accounts an amount of approximately $427,000 for employee termination benefits and annual vacation pay.

In my opinion, except for the failure to record a provision for employee termination benefits and annual vacation pays as mentioned in the preceding paragraph, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Agency as at March 31, 1978 and the results of its operations and the changes in its financial position for the year then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Appendix—ConcludedGovernment Telecommunications Agency Revolving Fund—Concluded*NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS MARCH 31, 1978*1. Authorization and purpose*(a) Authorization

The Fund was authorized by Vote L20, Appropriation Act No. 5, 1963, to draw from the Consolidated Revenue Fund at any time up to $1 million. This amount was increased to $2 million by Vote L6a, Appropriation Act No. 4, 1975, and, subsequently increased to $6 million by Vote L6a, Appropriation Act No. 3, 1977-78.

The Treasury Board, on September 21, 1972, authorized the Fund to carry forward to future years, surpluses or deficits to a maximum amount of $150,000.

(b) Purpose

The Fund is used to finance all activities of the Agency including:

- i) the payment of accounts submitted by common carrier companies for provision of telecommunication services and facilities in Canada and the USA; for customized (private) systems employed by various departments and the management of some nineteen consolidated telephone systems in major cities throughout Canada;
- ii) telecommunication engineering and support services for network and systems management;
- iii) for printing and distribution of telephone directories for each consolidated system;
- iv) administrative support and other related overhead charges; and
- v) providing a planning and coordinating capability for government telecommunications and support of an interdepartmental advisory committee.

2. Significant accounting policies(a) Depreciation

Depreciation of fixed assets is calculated using the diminishing balance method at the following rates: automobiles (30%), office equipment (20%), furniture and fixtures (10%).

(b) Contributed capital

Contributed capital represents fixed assets financed from parliamentary appropriations prior to April 1, 1971 and these assets are recorded at cost.

3. Contractual obligation-leasing of a telephone system

On December 15, 1977, Vote L7a of Appropriation Act No. 3, 1977-78 authorized advances totalling $527,000 representing a portion of the cost of leasing an electronic telephone system.

On April 6, 1978, Treasury Board approved the terms and conditions providing that the advances are repayable over a maximum period of 10 years. These advances are recoverable from the user departments. The interest rate, which is fixed quarterly by the Minister of Finance, was 8.375% as at March 31, 1978.

As at March 31, 1978, the Agency had received advances of $358,360, incurred expenses of $364,448 and recovered $368,517.

4. Comparative figures

Certain 1977 figures in the Statement of Operations have been reclassified to conform to the 1978 presentation.

5. Termination benefits and annual vacation pay

Termination benefits and annual vacation pay accrue to employees over their service period. Payments of these benefits are made to the employees on separation or retirement and are expensed by the Agency when paid. No provision has been made in the accounts for termination benefits and annual vacation pay accruing to employees as at March 31, 1978 which amounts are approximately $321,000 and $106,000 respectively. In July 1977, the Agency was advised by an officer of the Treasury Board Secretariat to continue the practice of not recording such a provision.

6. Advances from Canada:(a) Working capital

Interest on the advances for working capital was calculated at the rate of 9% per annum on the month-end balance shown in the Central Accounts of Canada.

(b) Purchase of fixed assets

On December 15, 1976, Vote L6b of Appropriation Act No. 5, 1976 authorized advances totalling $58,717 to the Agency for the purchase of fixed assets.

The terms and conditions approved by the Treasury Board on April 6, 1978 provide for annual repayments of $8,186 (excluding interest) until 1980 and $3,553 (excluding interest) from 1981 to 1985. The maturity date is March 31, 1985 and the interest rate, which is fixed quarterly by the Minister of Finance, was 8.375% as at March 31, 1978.

7. Contingent liability

In the course of operations, the Agency enters into contractual agreements relating to the research and technical development of telecommunication activities. As at March 31, 1978, the suspension of one of these agreements may result in a liability to the Agency. As the amount of any liability cannot be determined at this time, no provision has been made in the financial statements.

Fisheries Prices Support Board (Incorporated under the Fisheries Prices Support Act)

Ottawa, Ontario
June 16, 1978

THE HONOURABLE ROMÉO LEBLANC, P.C., M.P., MINISTER OF FISHERIES AND THE ENVIRONMENT,
OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

I have examined the balance sheet of Fisheries Prices Support Board as at March 31, 1978, and the statements of deficit and operations for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Board as at March 31, 1978, and the results of its operations for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 2, applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

NOTE TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

In accordance with the terms of International Agreements, Canada obtains raw sealskins without charge. The year-end inventory valuation of fur sealskins is based on the laid down cost which comprises labour charges for packing and transporting the skins to the fur processor. The additional costs for dressing and dyeing the skins are billed by the processor at date of shipment by him and have been estimated to be $104,108 with respect to the March 31, 1978 inventory. The comparable cost for the previous year-end inventory was estimated to be $85,927.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Objectives and operations of the Board

The Fisheries Prices Support Board is a Crown Corporation established under the Fisheries Prices Support Act, c. F-23. As authorized by the Governor in Council, the Board is empowered to purchase fishery products for its own account and to make deficiency payments to producers of such products. The Act requires that the Board, in establishing purchase prices and in determining the rate at which deficiency payments are to be made, endeavour to secure a fair relationship between the returns from fisheries and those from other occupations. In addition, the Board acts as procurement agency for the supply of fishery products required by the Canadian International Development Agency for food-aid and development programs. The Board operates through offices of the Department of the Environment, with departmental staff performing the executive functions of the Board.

2. Significant accounting policies

Inventories

In accordance with Section 10(4) of the Fisheries Prices Support Act inventories are valued at cost.

Modified cash accounting

The Board follows the laid-down practice applicable to government departments whereby payments made during the month of April to extinguish liabilities incurred prior to March 31 are reflected as cash transactions of the old year. Similarly settlements of accounts receivable in April by journal voucher of old year accounts due from government departments and agencies are reflected as cash transactions occurring prior to March 31.

Loss or profit

Section 10(3) of the Act provides that Board losses may be recouped from moneys appropriated by Parliament for that purpose and that profits be transferred to the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Administrative services provided by the Department of the Environment

In accordance with previous practice the administrative expenses of the Board for the year are charged to Department of the Environment Vote 5. Only the major administrative expenses are reflected in the statement of operations. Salaries represent the pro-rated portion of salary costs, excluding employee benefits, of those members of the Department's Ottawa staff who regularly devote time to the Board's affairs. Since the Board has no staff of its own, it does not reflect any accrued liability in its accounts for vacation pay or termination benefits.

3. Advances from Canada

Section 10(2) of the Act provides for advances not exceeding $25 million to be paid from the Consolidated Revenue Fund to finance Board purchases of fisheries products and deficiency payments. The proceeds from sales of fisheries products have been applied by the Board to the advances outstanding. No interest was charged during the year on the advances.

4. Deficiency payments

The Board made deficiency payments directly to the following groups and Crown corporations involved in the fishing industry:

	1978	1977
Smelt fishermen	39,877	152,570

MARCH 31, 1978

1. Objective

The Fund was established in 1969 to provide for the issue of appropriate travel documents to Canadian citizens and to certain permanent residents of Canada who are unable to obtain valid passports from their country of origin.

The authority granted by Parliament was amended by Vote L19(d), Appropriation Act No. 1, 1975 to allow the Passport Office Revolving Fund to draw out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund a maximum amount of $900,000 as working capital. Effective 1975-76 the Treasury Board gave to the Fund the authority to accumulate surpluses and carry over deficits.

2. Accounting policies

Inventories

The inventory of materials and supplies is carried at cost and the inventory of passports-in-process is valued at average cost for the year.

Fixed assets

Fixed assets are carried at cost. Leasehold improvements are amortized on the straight line basis over the term of the appropriate lease. Other fixed assets are depreciated from the year of acquisition on the straight line basis over their estimated useful lives as follows:

Furniture	16 years
Equipment
Electronic data processing	5 years
Other equipment	10 years

3. Cash on hand or on deposit with Receiver General

In accordance with Treasury Board regulations for revolving funds, the Fund sets aside every year amounts equal to depreciation which are restricted to either financing replacements, acquisitions and major renovations or repaying advances from Canada. As at March 31, 1978, $7,333 of the cash is restricted compared to $20,882 in 1977.

4. Advances from Canada

The advances from Canada were made solely for the acquisition of fixed assets and the minimum amount repayable in a given year is equal to the amount of yearly depreciation taken on the assets so acquired. The interest rates which are determined by the Minister of Finance for long-term borrowing, vary from 7.1325% to 9.375%. These advances are granted for a period of time varying from 5 to 16 years and are repayable up until 1992.

5. Long-term leases

The Passport Office occupies space at eight locations under long-term leases which expire between March 31, 1978 and December 31, 1981. The annual rental is approximately $732,000.

6. Comparative figures

The presentation of the prior year's comparative figures has been amended to conform to the current year's format.

Exchange Fund Account

Ottawa, Ontario
March 10, 1978

THE HONOURABLE JEAN CHRÉTIEN, P.C., M.P., MINISTER OF FINANCE,
OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

I have examined the balance sheet of the Exchange Fund Account as at December 31, 1977 and the statement of net income due to the Consolidated Revenue Fund as defined by section 16 of the Currency and Exchange Act for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Account as at December 31, 1977 and the net income due to the Consolidated Revenue Fund as defined by section 16 of the Currency and Exchange Act for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 2 to the financial statements applied on a basis which, except for the change in accounting policies described in Note 3, is consistent with that of the preceding year.

I further report that, in my opinion, proper books of account have been kept by the Account, the financial statements are in agreement therewith and the transactions that have come under my notice have been within its statutory powers.

J. J. MACDONELL
Auditor General of Canada

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Objective of the Account

The Exchange Fund Account was established under the provisions of the Currency and Exchange Act, R.S., c. C-39. The Account is in the name of the Minister of Finance, is administered by the Bank of Canada as fiscal agent and is financed by advances from the Consolidated Revenue Fund which are limited by Order-in-Council dated June 6, 1972 to $6 billion.

The Account's principal objective is to aid in the control and protection of the external value of the Canadian dollar. Accordingly, the Account acquires only those assets which the Minister of Finance has determined are appropriate for this purpose in accordance with the Act.

2. Significant accounting policies

(i) Reporting of assets

Assets reported on the balance sheet, except gold, reflect recorded cost, accrued interest and amortized premiums and discounts. Premiums and discounts on securities are amortized over their term to maturity. Gold held by the Account is valued at 35 Special Drawing Rights (SDRs) per fine ounce.

(ii) Translation of foreign currencies

Assets in U.S. dollars are translated to Canadian dollar equivalents at the year end closing exchange rate for the U.S. dollar in the Canadian foreign exchange market. Assets denominated in Special Drawing Rights are translated to U.S. dollar equivalents at the year end U.S. dollar value of the SDR as calculated by the International Monetary Fund.

(iii) Valuation gains and losses

Valuation gains and losses represent the increases or decreases in the Canadian dollar value of assets denominated in U.S. dollars or SDRs during the year.

(iv) Investment income

Investment income represents interest, amortization of premiums and discounts, gains or losses on disposal of investments and related service charges. Investment income is recorded in the accounts as accrued and is translated to its Canadian dollar equivalent at the foreign exchange rate prevailing at the date the income is recorded.

(v) Net income due to the Consolidated Revenue Fund

The Currency and Exchange Act defines net income due to the Consolidated Revenue Fund as the aggregate of investment income and one-thirds of valuation gains and losses for the year; the remaining two-thirds being deferred and included in net income in equal amounts over each of the following two years. Further, the Act provides that accumulated net losses as at December 31, 1976 will be included in the determination of net income for the year ended December 31, 1977.

(vi) Services provided without charge

The Bank of Canada provides the Account, without charge, administrative, custodial and fiscal agency services for carrying out the purposes of the Currency and Exchange Act.

3. Change in accounting policies

In 1977, the Currency and Exchange Act was amended, resulting in a change in the determination of the amount to be transferred to the Consolidated Revenue Fund for the year ended December 31, 1977 and subsequent years. The amended Act defines this amount as net income due to the Consolidated Revenue Fund as described in Note 2 (v). Accordingly, investment income of $120,272 thousand together with one-third of the valuation gains for the year amounting to $143,298 thousand are included in the determination of net income due to the Consolidated Revenue Fund. The remaining two-thirds of 1977 net valuation gains amounting to $286,596 thousand has been deferred and will be included in net income in equal amounts in each of the two years ended December 31, 1978 and December 31, 1979.

In prior years the amounts transferred included only net investment income and net valuation gains determined in accordance with the Act at that time. For the year ended December 31, 1976 the amount transferred was $182,768 thousand. Net valuation losses determined in accordance with the Act were accumulated in the Account as a deficit. These accumulated net losses at December 31, 1976 totalled $125,362 thousand and have been included in the determination of net income due to the Consolidated Revenue Fund for 1977.

Due to the significance of the changes as set out above, comparative figures for 1976 have not been provided on the statement of net income due to the Consolidated Revenue Fund as defined by section 16 of the Currency and Exchange Act.

4. Translation of foreign currencies

At December 31, 1977, one U.S. dollar was equivalent to 1.0940 Canadian dollars (1.0088 as at December 31, 1976) and 0.823244 SDRs (0.860670 as at December 31, 1976).

The Special Drawing Right was created by the International Monetary Fund (IMF) to supplement existing international reserve assets. SDRs are allocated on the basis of each member's quota (subscription) in the IMF. Canada's net cumulative allocation totals 358,620 thousand SDRs and is reflected in the Account as an asset with a corresponding liability. The liability in respect to the net cumulative allocation represents the obligation that Canada would incur upon the termination of Canada's participation in the Special Drawing Account or on the liquidation by the International Monetary Fund of the Special Drawing Account.

Special Drawing Rights may be used in transactions with the IMF or with other countries. At the end of the year, SDRs acquired earned interest at 3.5%

Oil Facility notes and General Arrangement to Borrow (GAB) notes are issued by the IMF with an original term to maturity of five years. These notes are redeemable on demand if Canada represents that it has a balance of payments need for repayment; IMF notes are also transferable to other Fund Members. Oil Facility notes yield 7% while the yield on GAB notes is related to the IMF's lending rates. As of the end of 1977, GAB notes yielded 4¾%.

9. Uncompleted contracts valuation adjustments

From time to time the Account sells U.S. dollars to the Bank of Canada through short term swaps and agrees to repurchase these amounts at a predetermined exchange rate. These transactions are undertaken to assist in the Bank's management of chartered bank cash reserves. At the end of 1977, total swaps outstanding amounted to U.S. $1,055,000 thousand as compared to U.S. $1,360,000 thousand at the end of 1976.

The commitment to repurchase these U.S. dollars is not reflected in the financial statements, nor are other uncompleted transactions entered into before year end but which are for settlement subsequent to year end. However, the difference between the Canadian dollar equivalents at transaction rates and year end rates is recorded in the Account and reflected in the balance sheet as a valuation adjustment on uncompleted contracts.

Statistics Canada Revolving Fund*(Authorized by Vote L82b, Appropriation Act No. 1, 1969, as amended)*

Ottawa, Ontario

July 10, 1978

THE HONOURABLE JACK H. HORNER, P.C., M.P.,
MINISTER OF INDUSTRY, TRADE AND COMMERCE,
OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

I have examined the balance sheet of the Statistics Canada Revolving Fund as at March 31, 1978 and the statement of operations for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances, except as explained below.

As explained in Note 2, the majority of the expenses of the Fund are represented by standard costs charged by Statistics Canada. No comparison is subsequently made of actual and standard costs to determine if standard costs are materially different from the actual costs incurred by Statistics Canada.

As explained in Note 3, an account receivable of $92,195 is currently in dispute. No information is available at this date as to the portion of this receivable which may ultimately be collected.

In my opinion, except for the effect of any adjustments which might have been required had actual costs incurred in providing the services of the Fund been charged to the Fund, as explained in the second preceding paragraph, and subject to the successful collection of the account receivable referred to in the preceding paragraph, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Fund as at March 31, 1978 and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Appendix 1—ConcludedStatistics Canada Revolving Fund—Concluded*NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

MARCH 31, 1978

1. Purpose

The Fund was established to meet requests of other government departments, agencies and others on a cost-recovery basis for special work in the form of services or information that is not provided in Statistics Canada's programs or publications.

2. Significant Accounting PoliciesStatement of Changes in Financial Position

A statement of changes in financial position has not been presented as in the opinion of management, it would not add significantly to the information to be derived from these financial statements.

Income Recognition

Income from special statistical services is recognized as revenue in the period in which the Fund provides the service to its customer.

Expense

All expenses of the Fund are incurred by or provided by Statistics Canada on behalf of the Fund. Salary and wage costs are charged to the Fund using a predetermined standard hourly rate. Overhead expenses are charged to the Fund partly as a percentage of salary costs and partly as a percentage of the direct cost of operating service stations (such as EDP, printing, etc.). The percentage is calculated at the beginning of each year based on estimated salary and wage costs, estimated operating costs of service stations, and estimated overhead expenses. Such overhead expenses are included in expense categories in the following amounts:

Salaries, wages and employee benefits	580,168
Accommodation	149,884
Office supplies	174,782
Equipment rental	11,336
Other	3,657
	919,827

While these standard charges are considered representative of the actual costs of operating the fund, the records of Statistics Canada do not permit subsequent comparison to actual expenditures which would reveal any over or undercharges to the Fund or salaries or overheads.

3. Accounts Receivable

Included in accounts receivable is an amount of $92,195 due from another department of the federal government, the collection of which is currently in dispute. Management of Statistics Canada, who administer the Fund, are of the opinion that no loss will be incurred by the Fund with respect to this account receivable.

4. Working Capital Advance

Operations of the Statistics Canada Revolving Fund were financed by advance payments received from Government Departments and others on account of services to be provided; consequently there were no drawings made against the authorized working capital advance of $250,000.

THE STANDARDS COUNCIL OF CANADA

AND

OTTAWA, ONTARIO

I have examined the balance sheet of the Standards Council of Canada as at March 31, 1978 and the statement of operations and unrestricted equity for the year then ended. Standards Council of Canada—Concluded

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Objectives and operations

The Standards Council of Canada was created by Parliament as a statutory corporation under its own act to be the national coordinating body for voluntary standardization. The Council carries out its task through the National Standards System, a federation of accredited organizations concerned with standards-writing, certification and testing coordinated by SCC. The System provides a coordinated approach to the development and advancement of voluntary standardization in the national interest.

Amongst its many programs, the Council provides financial assistance to standards-writing organizations, travel assistance to Canadian delegates to international meetings, coordinates the conversion of standards to the metric system of measurement, operates a self-funded standards sale service for Canadians for international and foreign national standards, and provides for Canadians a free national information service on standards.

2. Significant accounting policies

Statement of changes in financial position

A statement of changes in financial position has not been presented as, in the opinion of management, it would not add significantly to the information to be derived from these financial statements.

Office furniture and equipment

Consistent with accounting principles followed by many non-profit organizations, the Council follows the practice of charging the cost of office furniture and equipment to operations in the year of acquisition.

Foreign exchange

Foreign exchange on purchases of international and foreign national standards is recorded as part of the direct cost of those standards, which is expensed each year. There are no material amounts payable or receivable in foreign currencies at March 31, 1978.

Parliamentary appropriations

Parliamentary appropriations are recorded in the accounts as they are voted by Parliament. Under the terms of the Standards Council of Canada Act the excess of funds provided over actual net expenses for the year is accumulated in an equity account which is reduced in a year when net expenses exceed the amount voted.

3. Change in accounting policy

During the year, the Council adopted the policy of recording a provision for vacation pay and termination benefits accruing to its employees. Previously, amounts paid in respect of employees' vacations and termination benefits were expensed in the year of payment. The change in accounting policy had the effect of decreasing income for the current year by $38,000. This change in accounting policy was applied retroactively with the result that the income for the year ended March 31, 1977 has been decreased by $34,000 over the amount previously reported and $83,000 has been charged to operating results of years prior to 1976-77.

4. Reserves

During the previous year, the executive committee approved appropriations from the unrestricted equity of the Council. A reserve of $135,000 was appropriated towards the cost of hosting the International Organization of Standardization General Assembly in 1982, and $81,000 for the General Meeting of the International Electro-technical Commission in 1985. The remaining $46,874 of the 1976 equity was established as a general reserve to cover any contingency which may arise.

5. Comparative figures

Certain figures for 1977, presented for comparative purposes, have been restated to conform to the 1978 presentation.

Department

ADMINISTRATION PROGRAM

- To provide direction and efficient and timely service to the Department, direct the operations of the regional offices and ensure that requirements of other departments and agencies are fulfilled on time.

DEVELOPMENT AND UTILIZATION OF MANPOWER PROGRAM

PLANNING AND RESEARCH PROGRAM

- To ensure that departmental policies and programs are developed, planned and altered as necessary to make the maximum contribution to the attainment of the departmental goals. To provide information and analyses vital to the effective operation of discretionary programs.

Immigration Appeal Board

Objective

- To make available to persons who have been ordered deported from Canada or to persons in Canada whose relatives have been refused entry to Canada, an independent court to which they may appeal such decisions, not only on legal grounds, but also on discretionary grounds.

ADMINISTRATION PROGRAM

- To provide short-term financial relief and other assistance to workers eligible under the Unemployment Insurance Act, 1971.

Ottawa, Ontario
September 28, 1978

THE HONOURABLE BUD CULLEN, P.C., M.P.
OTTAWA, ONTARIO

I have examined the balance sheet of the Unemployment Insurance Account as at December 31, 1977 and the statements of revenue and expenditure and of administration expense for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Account as at December 31, 1977 and the results of its operations for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 2 applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

As explained in Note 3 to the financial statements, it has been established that the Commission has paid benefits to claimants who were not entitled to such benefits and that in a significant number of instances it has not adhered to all its administrative procedures in establishing the continuing eligibility of claimants. The Commission is continuing to seek ways to improve financial controls and to verify more effectively the initial and continuing eligibility of claimants.

J. J. MACDONELL
Auditor General of Canada

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 1977

1. Objectives and basis of the Account

In August of 1977, legislation was adopted merging the Unemployment Insurance Commission and the Department of Manpower and Immigration into the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission. The merger was accomplished through the Employment and Immigration Reorganization Act. The Commission is listed as a departmental corporation under the Financial Administration Act.

One of the main objectives of the Commission is the administration of the Unemployment Insurance Act, 1971, which provides for short-term financial relief and other assistance to workers eligible under this Act. The financial operations relating to this objective are reported through the Unemployment Insurance Account.

The Unemployment Insurance Account is part of the Government of Canada accounting entity. The Account is credited with amounts received under the Unemployment Insurance Act, benefit payments recoverable from Canada under the Act and interest received on deposit with the Receiver General for Canada. Receipts under the Act are paid into the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Benefit payments and administration expenses are paid out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund and charged to the Unemployment Insurance Account.

Premiums collected from and benefits paid to fishermen are respectively paid into and charged to the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Appendix 1—ConcludedCanada Employment and Immigration Commission—ConcludedUnemployment Insurance Account—Concluded*2. Significant accounting policies*(a) Revenue

Under Part IV of the Act, the Minister of National Revenue is responsible for collecting employers and employees premiums. These premiums are transferred monthly on an estimated basis to the Unemployment Insurance Account and recorded on a cash basis. The estimate is determined by forecasting factors such as employment, coverage, income and new entrants. Adjustment of the difference between the actual premium amount computed and the estimated premium amount transferred is made in the following year and remitted to/or reimbursed by the Commission subsequent to the year end. At December 31, 1977, $19 million of which $2 million pertained to 1976 was to be reimbursed and is recorded as a liability.

Penalties pursuant to Section 47 of the Act are recorded when received. All other revenues are recorded on an accrual basis.

(b) Expenditures

Benefit payments less net benefit overpayments, which are established yearly, are recorded on a cash basis.

Administration expenditures are recorded on an accrual basis with the exception of termination benefits accumulating to employees. Such payments are made and charged to the Account in the year the employee separates or retires.

(c) Fixed assets

The Commission follows the practice of charging to the cost of administration, all purchases of machinery and equipment in the year of acquisition.

(d) Unredeemed warrants

Unredeemed warrants represent benefits issued during the past three years which had not been presented for payment at December 31, 1977. Warrants unredeemed for more than three years are applied to reduce benefit expenditure in the following year.

3. Estimated Overpayments

The Commission is responsible for exercising financial control to ensure the initial and continuing eligibility of approximately 3 million individual claimants to whom benefits were paid in 1977, while providing prompt and efficient service to those who are entitled to receive benefits under the Unemployment Insurance Act.

Because of the large number of claimants to be monitored, control procedures are selective rather than universal in application and the requirement for prompt service has influenced the Commission to rely mainly upon control activities which take place after claimants have begun to receive benefits. It is therefore possible under these circumstances that some benefits could be paid to claimants who are not entitled to these benefits. Although the Commission has been increasing its efforts to improve adjudication by interviewing selected claimants at the time or very shortly after they file claims, the effectiveness of this program still needs to be improved.

Based upon the result of a statistical sample of claimants to whom benefits were paid in 1977, it has been established that the Commission has paid benefits to claimants who were not entitled to such benefits.

The amount of such overpayments not previously identified by the Commission's regular control activities is most likely to be approximately $142 million ($95 million in 1976). These overpayments, which are included in the cost of benefits on the statement of Revenue and Expenditure, are in addition to an amount of $6 million ($5 million in 1976) also included in that figure which represents the net loss on overpayments identified by the control activities referred to above. In addition, the results of the sample indicate that in a significant number of instances, the Commission did not adhere to all its administrative procedures in the processing of continuing benefit payments and that some part of the amounts so paid could represent further overpayments.

	1977	1976
Benefit overpayments consist of:
Balance as established at December 31	40,075,444	36,461,396
Allowance for uncollectible amounts	19,606,445	15,901,867
Estimated amount pertaining to Canada	5,526,630	4,523,096
	25,133,075	20,424,963
	14,942,369	16,036,433

In addition to the increase in the balance of benefit overpayments established, $2.3 million ($2.7 million in 1976) of uncollected benefit overpayments were written off during the year under authority of Section 175(2) of the Unemployment Insurance Regulations.

5. Benefits

The Government cost of Unemployment Insurance benefits paid under phases 1, 2 and 3 is based on the excess of the average national rate of unemployment for the year over a percentage based on the average for the past ninety-six months ended on the 30th day of June in the immediately preceding year. The rate for 1977 was 28% (22% in 1976). The cost of all other phases is entirely charged to the Government, except for sickness, special severance and maternity benefit payments, and work sharing which are the responsibility of the Commission.

6. Subsequent event

In February 1978, the Commission established that benefit overpayments of approximately $4.5 million, resulted from the incorrect utilization of the 1977 unemployment rates in determining claimant's entitlement to regional extended benefits as provided in Section 35 of the Unemployment Insurance Act. This amount of overpayments is not recorded in the financial statements at December 31, 1977 and is in addition to overpayments previously referred to in Notes 3 and 4.

Government Annuities Account

(Established by the Government Annuities Act)

Ottawa, Ontario
August 8, 1978

THE HONOURABLE BUD CULLEN, P.C., M.P.,
OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

I have examined the balance sheet of the Government Annuities Account administered by the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission as at March 31, 1978 and the statements of revenue and expense, unpaid annuities and administrative expenditure for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Government Annuities Account as at March 31, 1978 and the results of its operations for the year then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

The purpose of the Account is to assist Canadians to provide for their later years by the purchase of Government annuities. The Improvement Act, assented to on December 20, 1975, increased the rate of return and flexibility of Government Annuity contracts and discontinued future sales of annuities.

The Account is administered by the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission.

In accordance with section 15 of the Government Annuities Improvement Act, the liability outstanding at the end of each fiscal year in respect to annuity contracts is calculated on the basis of such rate or rates of interest and mortality tables, and in such manner, as is prescribed by regulation.

If at the end of any fiscal year the liability calculated according to the above-mentioned paragraph exceeds or is less than the balance of the Government Annuities Account, the actuarial deficit or surplus resulting is credited or charged to the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

(c) Revenue for the year

Revenue for the year included accrued interest calculated yearly on the balance of unpaid annuities, on the basis of such rate or rates of interest and mortality tables, and in such manner, as is prescribed by regulation.

During 1977-78, the additional interest amounted to $240,192,454.46 and was charged to interest on the public debt and credited to the annual amortization charge of actuarial deficiencies.

AUDITOR GENERAL OF CANADA

Ottawa, Ontario

September 8, 1978

THE HONOURABLE MONIQUE BÉGIN, P.C., M.P., MINISTER OF NATIONAL HEALTH AND WELFARE,
OTTAWA, ONTARIO

I have examined the statements of transactions of the Canada Pension Plan Account and the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund for the year ended March 31, 1978. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these statements of transactions present fairly the balance in the Canada Pension Plan Account and the investments in the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund as at March 31, 1978, and the transactions through these accounts for the year then ended, in accordance with the accounting policies disclosed in Note 1, applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

As explained in Note 1, under the provisions of the Canada Pension Plan, the plan operates on a current basis with benefits being paid out of current contributions. These statements of transactions are not intended nor do they purport to show the adequacy of the balance in the Canada Pension Plan Account to meet, on an actuarial basis, the future obligations of the Canada Pension Plan.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS MARCH 31, 1978

1. Significant accounting policies

In accordance with the provisions of the Canada Pension Plan, these statements show the transactions through the Canada Pension Plan Account and the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund, and changes in the balances of these accounts for the year ended March 31, 1978.

The Plan operates on a current basis with benefits being paid out of current contributions.

Contributions, interest and benefit payments of the Canada Pension Plan Account are recorded on a cash basis. Expenses are recorded on a cash basis modified to include payments in April that relate to work performed, goods received or services rendered prior to March 31.

The cost of furniture and equipment is charged to expense at the time of acquisition.

All securities held are carried at cost, are non-negotiable and have a term of 20 years. The securities bear interest at the average market yield of 20-year Canada bonds applicable at the time of the issue of the security.

2. Funding of the Plan

When the Canada Pension Plan was introduced in 1966, the combined employer-employee contribution rate was set at 3.6% of the Contributory Earnings with the understanding that this would be more than sufficient to meet the costs of benefits and administration for a certain period of time, but not indefinitely. In the initial years, a fund would be built up from which resources would be made available to provinces as loans. However, since the inception of the Plan, it has been recognized that the 3.6% contribution rate would need to be raised at some point in the future.

Under the Canada Pension Plan legislation, the Chief Actuary of the Department of Insurance is required to prepare an actuarial report on the operation of the Act and the state of the Canada Pension Plan account at least once every five years. The latest quinquennial report was tabled in the House of Commons on April 17, 1974. That report indicated that if no changes were made to the combined employer-employee contribution rate of 3.6%, the annual cost of benefits would exceed the amount of annual contributions by the year 1982. After 1982, a gradually increasing proportion of interest payments would be needed to finance pension benefits and administrative costs, and no further funds, apart from the reinvestment of a portion of interest owed to the Fund would be available to the provinces as loans. The Fund would continue to grow until 1990 when all of the interest would be needed to meet payments. If the increase in the contribution rate were delayed beyond 1990 it would become necessary to start recalling loans to the provinces, and by the year 2000, the fund would be exhausted.

The report also showed the future combined employee-employer pay-as-you-go contribution rate, i.e. the contribution rates which would be required to raise enough money in each year to pay for benefits and administrative expenses in each of those years. On the basis of the actuarial assumptions made in the report, those rates would have to rise gradually from the current combined contribution rate of 3.6% to 3.64% by 1982, to 5% by 1990, to 5.85% by 2000 and to 7.91% by the year 2025.

While the Canada Pension Plan is administered by the Government of Canada, it does not have exclusive authority to effect changes to the Plan. Under existing legislation, any proposed enactment to alter the general level of benefits or the rate of contributions requires at least a two year and one day period of exposure to Parliament before coming into force, and agreement by at least two-thirds of the ten provinces having an aggregate of not less than two-thirds of the population. In February 1977, the Ministers of Finance and the Provincial Treasurers asked their officials to assess Canada Pension Plan financing issues. The resultant report will, among other things, examine and analyze the economic, social and financial effects of the Canada Pension Plan, and recommend alternative policies to the Finance Ministers and Provincial Treasurers.

Appendix 2—ConcludedCanada Pension Plan Account—Concluded*Canada Pension Plan Investments Fund—Concluded*NOTES OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS MARCH 31, 1978—Concluded*3. Expenses

The total expenses of the Canada Pension Plan Account represent the amounts charged for services provided by six federal government departments: National Revenue—Taxation (collection of contributions); National Health and Welfare (administration); Supply and Services (accounting and computer services); Public Works (accommodation); Employment and Immigration (assignment of social insurance numbers and maintenance of central index) and Insurance (actuarial services). The Department of Finance is responsible for the investment program of the Fund, a service that is performed without a charge by this Department.

4. Interest on investments

Interest received by the Canada Pension Plan Account during the year ended March 31, 1978 is as follows:

	1978	1977
From securities of the provinces:
Newfoundland	17,663,140	14,750,551
Prince Edward Island	3,583,057	2,979,580

From securities of Canada	5,797,384	4,803,489
	894,065,735	750,163,486

5. Purchase of securities of the provinces and Canada

The balance to the credit of the Canada Pension Plan Account less the balance in the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund is defined by the legislation as the operating balance. When the operating balance exceeds the estimated amount required to meet all payments in the following three-month period, the excess is available for purchase of securities of the provinces and Canada.

Provinces are advised monthly of the amount of excess monies in the Canada Pension Plan Account that is available for the purchase of provincial securities. The amount available to each province is the proportion that contributions made to the Plan by each province bears to total contributions. Contributions received from the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and from certain other employees outside Canada are invested in bonds of the Government of Canada.

The Canada Pension Plan is applicable throughout Canada, except in the Province of Quebec where a similar plan has been established. However, certain federal employees, such as members of the armed forces, who are resident in the Province of Quebec contribute to the Canada Pension Plan. The securities of the Province that are purchased by the Plan relate to the contributions of these employees.

Administrator—Anti-Inflation

Objective

- To administer the enforcement provisions of the Anti-Inflation Act.

Note: In 1977-78 the employer contribution to the Unemployment Insurance Account in respect of Government employees was charged to each department. In previous years the cost was entirely reflected in Treasury Board's budgetary expenditures.

For comparative purposes the 1976-77 figures have been adjusted.

In 1977-78 the authority to spend revenue received from the private sector was discontinued.

Customs and Excise Revolving Fund*(Authorized by National Revenue Vote 632, Appropriation Act No. 2, 1954, 1953-54, c. 25)*

OTTAWA, ONTARIO
JULY 27, 1978

MINISTER OF NATIONAL REVENUE,
OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

I have examined the balance sheet of the Customs and Excise Revolving Fund as at March 31, 1978 and the statement of operations and Statement of Change in Working Capital Advance for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

All overhead costs of administering the Revolving Fund are borne by the Department of National Revenue—Customs and Excise. Therefore, the excess of revenue over expenses for the year as reported in these financial statements is overstated by the amount of the overhead costs not recorded in the statement of operations. No estimate is available of the amount of the unallocated costs.

In my opinion, except for the failure to reflect overhead costs of administering the Fund, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Customs and Excise Revolving Fund as at March 31, 1978 and the results of its operations and the changes in its working capital advance for the year then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

RHÉAL CHATELAIN
Deputy Auditor General, for the Auditor General of Canada

Appendix—ConcludedCustoms and Excise Revolving Fund—Concluded

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS MARCH 31, 1978

1. Accounting Policies

(a) Authority—The revolving fund has been authorized by National Revenue Vote 632, Appropriation Act No. 2, 1954, 1953—54, c. 25. The maximum authorized amount of the working capital advance is $750,000.

(b) Purpose—The fund was created to permit the bulk purchases and sales of paper, stores materials, uniform cloth, stationery supplies, customs duty stamps and labels and other similar items.

In accordance with Treasury Board letter dated July 16, 1976, the revolving fund has been extended to cover the purchase of uniform items from a clothing manufacturer. This is within the meaning of our current authority. It is to be noted that the revolving fund is no longer used for bulk purchases and sales of paper, stores materials and stationery supplies.

2. Significant accounting policies

(a) Overhead costs of administering the Revolving Fund are borne by the Department of National Revenue—Customs and Excise.

(b) Interest is not charged to the Fund because the Treasury Board has classified the Fund as a Working Capital Advance.

3. Contract for Uniform Purchase

During the year, the department entered into a contract for the purchase of uniforms over a period ending March 31, 1979, at an estimated cost of $1,317,489. The unexpended portion of this contract at March 31, 1978 amounted to $644,892.

NOTES TO THE STATEMENT OF EXPENDITURE
MARCH 31, 1978

1. Objective

The Economic Council of Canada was established on August 2, 1963 by Act of Parliament under the provisions of the Economic Council of Canada Act, and reports to the Prime Minister through the Privy Council. The objective of the Economic Council is to advise and recommend to the Prime Minister how Canada can achieve the highest possible levels of employment and efficient production in order that the country may enjoy a high and consistent rate of economic growth and that all Canadians may share in rising living standards.

2. Accounting policies

The accounts of the Council are maintained on a cash basis modified to include payments made in April relating to work performed, goods received or services rendered prior to March 31. Purchases of furniture and equipment are recorded as an administration expenditure in the year of acquisition. This basis of accounting is consistent with that used by departments of the Government of Canada.

Reported expenditures also include an estimated amount for services provided without charge by government departments.

3. Financing

The amounts required to finance the transactions of the Council are provided by Privy Council Vote 20 and recorded as expenditure in the accounts of Canada. During the year, $4,844,000 was provided by this Vote and $405,426 lapsed in accordance with Section 30 of the Financial Administration Act.

REGIONAL ECONOMIC EXPANSION

Department

Objective

- To encourage each region of Canada to realize its potential for contributions to the economic and social development of the nation by expanding production and employment opportunities in regions of disparity and by encouraging mobility and other aspects of social adjustment both within and between regions.

Cape Breton Development Corporation

Objective

- To stimulate economic adjustment and expansion on Cape Breton Island while rationalizing the coal industry.

Note: In 1977-78 the employer contribution to the Unemployment Insurance Account in respect of Government employees was charged to each department. In previous years the cost was entirely reflected in Treasury Board's budgetary expenditures.

For comparative purposes the 1976-77 figures have been adjusted.

Note to Financial Statement March 31, 1978

1. Objective and accounting policies

The objective of the Science Council is to assess Canada's scientific and technological requirements, resources and potentialities and to advise the Government on the best use of science and technology.

The amounts required to finance the transactions of the Council are provided for by lapsing parliamentary appropriation and are recorded as expenditures in the accounts of Canada.

Administrative expenses are recorded on a cash basis modified to include payments in April relating to work performed, goods received or services rendered prior to March 31, which basis is consistent with that used by departments of the Government of Canada.

An estimated amount for services provided without charge by government departments is included in the statement.

Purchases of furniture and equipment are expensed in the year of acquisition.

ENDOWMENT ACCOUNT

(Statutory Endowment Fund and Parliamentary Grant)

Ottawa, Ontario

June 9, 1978

THE CANADA COUNCIL

AND

THE HONOURABLE JOHN ROBERTS, P.C., M.P.,

OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

I have examined the balance sheets of the Endowment Account and Special Funds of the Canada Council as at March 31, 1978 and the statements of operations and surplus of the Endowment Account and changes in equity of Special Funds for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Council as at March 31, 1978 and the results of its operations and the changes in its special funds for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 1, applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

J. J. MACDONELL

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS MARCH 31, 1978

1. Accounting policies

Accounting basis

The Council's accounts are maintained on the accrual basis.

Insured mortgages

Insured mortgages are carried at cost plus the earned portion of the related discount, if any.

Losses on disposal of investments

Net losses on disposal of investments are charged against the "Accumulated net gains on disposal of investments" to the extent of the accumulated gains available in the related accounts. The remaining loss, if any, is charged against "Accumulated earnings" in the case of the Special Funds and "Operations" in the case of the Endowment Account.

Grants

At its quarterly meetings the Council approves all grants for payment and determines the fiscal year to which they shall be charged. Only those grants charged to the current fiscal year are reflected in the financial statements. Cancelled grants approved in previous years and refunds are shown as income in the Endowment Account. With respect to the Special Funds such items are deducted from the grants approved during the year.

Works of art (Note 7)

Purchases of works of art are not capitalized but are charged to programme expenditure in the year of purchase.

Capital assets

Capital expenditures are charged to general administration expenditure in the year of purchase and consequently there are no charges for depreciation.

Termination benefits

The Council does not record in its accounts the liability for termination benefits estimated at March 31, 1978 to be $144,262.

Other

Except for the parliamentary grant and the Queen's Fellowship Fund (Note 3), all monies or properties received by the Council pursuant to Section 20 of the Canada Council Act are accounted for in the Special Funds statement.

6. Bequests and gifts

The Council has received bequests and gifts as follows:

(a) Izaak Walton Killam Memorial Fund for Advanced Studies

A bequest of $12,339,615 in cash and securities was received from the estate of the late Mrs. Dorothy J. Killam for the establishment of "The Izaak Walton Killam Memorial Fund for Advanced Studies" to provide scholarships "for advances study or research at universities, hospitals, research or scientific institutes, or other equivalent or similar institutions both in Canada and in other countries in any field of study or research other than 'the arts' as presently defined in the Canada Council Act and not limited to the 'humanities and social sciences' referred to in such Act".

The bequest contains the following provisions: that the Killam Trust shall not form part of the Endowment Fund or otherwise be merged with any assets of the Council; and that, in the event the Canada Council should ever be liquidated or its existence terminated or its powers and authority changed so that it is no longer able to administer any Killam Trust, the assets forming the Killam Trust must be paid over to certain universities which have also benefited under the Will.

The cash and securities received and the proceeds have been invested in a separate portfolio.

(b) Special Scholarship Fund

A gift of approximately $4,350,000 was received from the late Mrs. Dorothy J. Killam for the establishment of a Special Scholarship Fund. The gift consists of securities registered in the name of the Canada Council, redeemable over a period of years. To March 31, 1978, the Council has received proceeds from the redemption of these securities amounting to $1,856,380. These proceeds have been invested in a separate portfolio and the income therefrom is available to provide fellowship grants to Canadians for advanced study or research in the fields of medicine, science and engineering at universities, hospitals, research or scientific institutions or other equivalent or similar institutions in Canada.

(c) Molson Prize Fund

Gifts of $900,000 from the Molson Foundation established a capital fund referred to as the Molson Prize Fund. The income of the Fund is used for awarding cash prizes to Canadians for outstanding achievement in the fields of the Arts, the Humanities or the Social Sciences that enriches the cultural or intellectual heritage of Canada or contributes to national unity. The value of each prize is $20,000 or as determined by Council, without restriction as to its use by the recipient.

(d) Lynch-Staunton Fund

An unconditional bequest of $699,066 from the estate of the late V. M. Lynch-Staunton established a capital fund, the income from which is available for the regular programmes of the Council.

(e) John B.C. Watkins Estate

A bequest was received (carried on the balance sheet at a nominal value of $1) of the net income from the residue of the estate of the late John B.C. Watkins, which assets are held in perpetuity by a trust company. The net income is to be used "for the establishment of scholarships to be awarded to graduates of any Canadian University who may apply therefor for the purpose of engaging in post graduate studies in Denmark, Norway, Sweden or Iceland and who shall be selected for their outstanding worth or promise by a committee appointed by the Canada Council".

(f) J.B. Barwick Estate

A bequest of what may amount to $31,500 was made by the late J.B. Barwick. The payment of the bequest is to be postponed during the lifetime of the surviving beneficiary of the residue of the estate. The bequest to the Council is "on condition that such bequest shall be applied for the benefit of the musical division of the arts and for the encouragement of the musical arts to increase the Council's normal budget in the musical division or field of the arts". The bequest is reflected in the balance sheet at a nominal value of $1.

(g) Edith Davis Webb Estate

A bequest of what may amount to $400,000 was made by the late Mrs. Edith Davis Webb. The payment of the bequest is to be postponed during the lifetime of the surviving beneficiary of the residue of the estate. The bequest of the Canada Council is "to be used for the purpose of making grants or establishing scholarships for musical study in such manner as the Council shall determine". The bequest is reflected in the balance sheet at a nominal value of $1.

Appendix 1—ConcludedThe Canada Council—Concluded*NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS*MARCH 31, 1978—Concluded*Other*7. Art Bank (Note 1)

In 1972 the Canada Council Art Bank was established to develop a collection of works of art for use in Federal offices and public buildings on a rental basis. Works of art acquired to March 31, 1978 totalled $4,775,000 including $693,000 purchased in 1977-78 ($755,000 in 1976-77).

8. Long-term lease agreement

On October 8, 1976 the Council entered into a ten-year agreement for office space for the period November 1976 to October 1986. The agreement calls for an annual rental of $606,450 for the first five years and an annual rental of $657,975 for the remaining five years. The Council also rents warehouse space under a five-year agreement ending March 31, 1979 calling for an annual rental of $15,934.

9. Event subsequent to the year end(a) Extraordinary item

The Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council Act, which takes effect from April 1, 1978, provides for the establishment of the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council as a Schedule B Crown corporation to assume those duties and responsibilities previously assigned to the Canada Council in the field of humanities and social sciences.

The Canada Council has been directed to pay to the new Council in 1978-79 an amount not to exceed $20 million (as authorized by Main Estimates 1978-79). The grants which would have been payable at March 31, 1978 with respect to social sciences and humanities were therefore deleted from the accounts of the Canada Council and replaced by the above-noted liability. The financial statements reflect this change.

The effect of the change was to reduce the overall liabilities of the Canada Council by $3,105,988 million, and to increase the surplus by the same amount.

(b) Estimated losses on sale of investments

Canada Council expects that it will incur losses of approximately $2 million in 1978-79 on sale of investments to make the $20 million payment to the new Council, and has reflected this in the financial statements.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Objectives and operations of the Corporation

The National Museums of Canada was established by the National Museums Act 1967-68, c. 21, s. 1. "...to demonstrate the products of nature and the works of man, with special but not exclusive reference to Canada, so as to promote interest therein throughout Canada and to disseminate knowledge thereof". The Corporation is a departmental Crown corporation of Canada and is funded through an annual appropriation which provides for the operating expenditures of the Corporation as well as providing annual amounts for credit to the Purchase and Special Accounts.

The Corporation is comprised of the National Gallery of Canada, and the National Museums of Man, Science and Technology, and Natural Sciences.

2. Significant accounting policies

Application

The statement of expenditure and revenue includes the activities of the National Museums of Canada as well as those of the Purchase, Trust and Special Accounts administered by the Corporation.

Expenditures

Expenditures for the year included amounts paid in April 1978 relating to work performed, goods received or services rendered prior to March 31, 1978. Operating expenditures are charged to parliamentary appropriations provided for that purpose. Capital expenditures are expended in the year of purchase and are provided for in the same parliamentary appropriations.

Receipts

Receipts of the Corporation's Purchase Account, Trust Account and Special Account are reported on a cash basis and are retained in those accounts. Other revenues are reported on a cash basis and are credited to non-tax revenue of Canada in the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Disbursements of the special accounts

Disbursements of the Purchase and Special Accounts are made from the receipts of those accounts as well as from parliamentary appropriations provided for that purpose. Disbursements of the Corporation's Trust Account are made from the receipts of that account.

Services provided without charge

Amounts for services provided without charge by other government departments are included in the operating expenditures of the Corporation (Note 4).

Grants

Grants are charged to a separate parliamentary appropriation and are subject to criteria and guidelines approved by the Treasury Board.

Employees' termination benefits

Employee termination benefits are expended in the year of payment. The Corporation does not reflect in its financial statement the liability for employee termination benefits, estimated at March 31, 1978 to be $5,520,000 ($4,800,000 at March 31, 1977).

3. Purchase Account

AUDITOR GENERAL OF CANADA
Ottawa, Ontario
July 18, 1978

THE HONOURABLE JOHN ROBERTS, P.C., M.P.,
OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

I have examined the balance sheet of the Staff Development and Training Revolving Fund of the Public Service Commission as at March 31, 1978 and the statements of operations, retained earnings and changes in financial position for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, except for the failure to record a provision for employee termination benefits referred to in Note 2(a), these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Fund as at March 31, 1978 and the results of its operations and the changes in its financial position for the year then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Appendix 4—ConcludedPublic Service Commission—Concluded*Staff Development and Training Revolving Fund—Concluded*NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS, MARCH 31, 1978*1. Objectives and operations of the Fund

The revolving fund was established by Secretary of State Vote L120, Appropriation Act No. 3, 1971, 1970-71-72, c. 46, to provide development and training courses, including specialized language training, and related consultative services, on a cost-recovery basis.

In 1976-77 the maximum amount which may be drawn from the Consolidated Revenue Fund as advances for working capital was increased from $2,000,000 to $3,500,000 under authority of Secretary of State Vote L107b, Appropriation Act No. 5, 1976, 1976-77, c. 2.

2. Significant accounting policies(a) Year-end cut-off

The accounts of the revolving fund are presented on the accrual basis with the exception of the liability for employee termination benefits and the liability for vacation pay which are not recorded in the books of account. The liability for vacation pay is not considered material. The financial statements show the balance of the working capital advance account as at March 31, 1978 in accordance with the instructions contained in Treasury Board Circular No. 1970-7 of January 8, 1970.

(b) Surplus/deficit

The Treasury Board on November 1, 1973, authorized the revolving fund to carry forward surpluses or deficits annually up to a limit of $150,000. These retained earnings are to be used to offset accumulated deficits from prior years' operations or to provide for expected deficits in future years. Any surplus in excess of $150,000 must be refunded to the Receiver General for Canada as non-tax revenue. Accumulated deficits in excess of $150,000 will be recouped by authority of Parliament.

3. Interest on advance

Interest on the working capital advance was calculated at the rate of 9% per annum on the month-end balance shown in the Central Accounts of Canada.

4. Comparative figures

Certain figures for 1977, presented for comparative purposes, have been restated to conform to the 1978 presentation.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 1978

1. Objectives and operations of the Fund

The purpose of the Fund is to provide microfilm service to government departments and agencies on a cost recovery basis.

Under authority of Secretary of State Vote L110, Appropriation Act No. 3, 1975, 1974-75-76, c. 57, the maximum amount which may be drawn from the Consolidated Revenue Fund as advances for working capital was established at $200,000.

2. Significant accounting policies

Accounting basis

The accounts of the Fund are recorded on an accrual basis with the exception that the liability for employee termination benefits and the liability for accrued vacation leave amounting to $33,870 and $13,770 respectively were not recorded in the books of account as at March 31, 1978. The effect on the financial statements is not considered material.

Inventories

Inventory of raw material is valued at cost on a first-in, first-out basis. Work in process inventory is valued on the basis of cost of raw materials used plus an estimate of the value of direct labour and other costs incurred.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

MARCH 31, 1978—Concluded

Fixed assets

- (a) Fixed asset purchases from appropriations prior to April 1, 1969 were transferred to the Revolving Fund without charge and were recorded at an appraised value of $114,010 of which assets valued at $41,285 have been disposed of to date. Purchases subsequent to April 1, 1969 were recorded at cost. For assets acquired up to March 31, 1975 depreciation is calculated on a straight line basis, using estimated useful life of each asset, usually 3 to 10 years. For assets acquired after March 31, 1975 depreciation is calculated on a straight line basis at 20% for machinery and equipment and at 10% for other assets based on the acquisition cost.
- (b) The Central Microfilm Unit moved in October 1975 to leased accommodation at a new location. Leasehold improvements are being amortized on a straight line basis over the period of the lease of 10 years.

5. Prior period adjustment

As a result of accounting errors in 1976-77, the balance of the deficit at March 31, 1977 previously reported as $41,637 has been restated to show retroactive charges of $13,865 consisting of:

Increase in accounts payable and materials consumed	9,388
Decrease in accounts receivable and sales	4,477
	13,865

6. Comparative figures

Certain figures for 1977, presented for comparative purposes, have been restated to conform to the 1978 presentation.

3. Loans from Canada

Loans totalling $317,038 have been made to the Revolving Fund to finance the acquisition of fixed assets and leasehold improvements. These loans bear interest at the rate of 8¼% and are repayable in annual instalments under terms and conditions approved by the Treasury Board except that a loan of $20,000 authorized by Secretary of State Vote L105, Appropriation Act No. 3, 1975, and a further loan of $200,000 authorized by Secretary of State Vote L100, Appropriation Act No. 3, 1976, have not yet received the approval of the Treasury Board for their terms and conditions.

4. Deficit

The deficit balance at March 31, 1977 was not recouped in 1977-78. However, authority will be requested in the 1978-79 Supplementary Estimates for the recovery of the accumulated deficit to March 31, 1978 through a charge to an expenditure vote of the Secretary of State.

AUDITOR GENERAL OF CANADA
Ottawa, Ontario
June 30, 1978

THE HONOURABLE JOHN ROBERTS, P.C., M.P.,
OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

I have examined the balance sheet of the Canadian Government Photo Centre Revolving Fund of the National Film Board as at March 31, 1978 and the statements of operations, deficit, and changes in financial position for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, except for the failure to record a provision for employee termination benefits referred to in Note 2, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Fund as at March 31, 1978 and the results of its operations and the changes in its financial position for the year then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Appendix 6—ConcludedNational Film Board—Concluded*Canadian Government Photo Centre Revolving Fund—Concluded*NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 1978*1. Objectives and operations of the Fund

The purpose of the Fund is to provide photographic printing and processing services to government departments and agencies on a cost recovery basis.

Under authority of Secretary of State Vote L76d, Appropriation Act No. 1, 1977, 1976-77, c. 7, the maximum amount which may be drawn from the Consolidated Revenue Fund as advances for working capital was established at $750,000.

2. Significant accounting policies(a) Accounting basis

The accounts of the Fund were maintained on an accrual basis with the exception of the liability for employee termination benefits which is not recorded in the books of account and amounts to $132,178 at March 31, 1978 ($99,930 at March 31, 1977).

(b) Inventory

Inventory is valued at the lower of cost on a first-in, first-out basis, and net realizable value.

(c) Fixed assets

Fixed assets are recorded at cost. Depreciation is provided on a straight line basis at the rate of 10% per annum.

5. Prior period adjustments

As a result of errors in the accounting for cash receipts and fixed asset disposals during the year ended March 31, 1976, the deficit balances as at March 31, 1976 and 1977 have been increased to show a retroactive charge of $52,871. This represents the cumulative amount by which accounts receivable and fixed assets have been restated to reflect the following:

Payments on accounts receivable incorrectly recorded as income	45,013
Loss on previously unrecorded fixed asset disposals	7,858
	52,871

In addition, the fund had acquired certain used fixed assets in previous years from the National Film Board and reported them at net book value. This year it was decided to show the gross cost and accumulated depreciation and the comparative figures have been restated to reflect this change.

3. Loans

Loans authorized by Parliament on an annual basis are for the acquisition of fixed assets. These loans bear interest at rates varying from 7¼% to 8¼% and are repayable in annual instalments over a period of ten years under the terms approved by the Governor in Council.

4. Deficit

Authority will be requested in 1978-79 Supplementary Estimates for the recovery of the 1977-78 deficit through a charge to an expenditure vote of the Secretary of State.

The objects of the Corporation are: to operate and maintain the National Arts Centre; to develop the performing arts in the National Capital Region; and to assist the Canada Council in the development of the performing arts elsewhere in Canada.

In furtherance of its objects, the Corporation may arrange for and sponsor performing arts activities at the Centre; encourage and assist in the development of performing arts companies resident at the Centre; arrange for and sponsor radio and television broadcasts and the showing of films in the Centre; provide accommodation at the Centre, on such terms and conditions as the Corporation may fix, for national and local organizations whose objects include the development and encouragement of the performing arts in Canada; and at the request of the Government of Canada or the Canada Council, arrange for performances elsewhere in Canada by performing arts companies, whether resident or non-resident in Canada, and arrange for performances outside Canada by performing arts companies resident in Canada.

With a view to achieving the objects, Her Majesty demised and leased the National Arts Centre building complex to the Corporation for a period of twenty years commencing June 1, 1969. Under the terms of the lease, the Corporation is responsible for maintenance and operation of the building complex, but is not required to pay for the use of the complex. Accordingly, the accounts of the Corporation do not include any charge for rent, interest or depreciation related to the building complex.

2. Significant accounting policies

(a) Grants

Municipal and specific grants receivable as at March 31 are recorded as assets in cases where the grantors have made firm commitments to the Corporation.

(b) Capital expenditures

Capital expenditures for operations are expensed in the year of acquisition.

(c) Inventories

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value (restaurants) or replacement cost (production).

(d) Deferred income

Income from tickets sold prior to March 31 for performances taking place after that date is deferred. Deferred income also includes unredeemed gift certificates, exchange vouchers and credit notes; those more than three years old and a percentage of those less than three years old are included in income for the current year.

(e) Cost of performing arts programmes

Direct costs of performing arts programmes are apportioned over the number of performances of the related production. Advances to performing companies and artists under contract and other costs of production in progress are deferred in costs relating to future performances.

Direct costs include expenditures directly attributable to the National Arts Centre's performing arts programmes. Indirect cost not attributable to particular performances are charged to general and administrative expense.

(f) Restaurant operations

Restaurant expense does not include costs related to building maintenance, public services and capital operating expenditures. These costs are included in general and administrative expense.

(g) Provision for employee termination benefits

Severance pay generally accrues to employees over their service period and is payable upon their separation or retirement. A provision for this liability is reflected in the balance sheet and the related expense is included in salaries and wages in the statements of income and expenses.

3. Short term deposit certificates

Short term deposit certificates include $75,000 provided as security to the Bank for the payment of salaries to artists as required by a union and in guarantee of a musician's loan for the purchase of instrument.

4. Provision for major repairs to building

Annuity, insurance and pension accounts—Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Account, Section 25 of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Act, R.S., c. R-11, requires that at least once in every five years an actuarial report on the state of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Account be laid before Parliament.

On March 14, 1978, a report was tabled showing that an estimated actuarial deficit of $21,700,000 existed in the Account at December 31, 1974 after making allowances for integration of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Plan benefits with benefits under the Canada Pension Plan. On the advice of the actuaries, an amount of $14,690,000 was credited to the Account as of March 31, 1978, pursuant to subsection 24(3) of the Act to cover the actuarial deficit identified in the report.

Amendments to the superannuation regulations provided for the calculation of interest at a revised rate (related to the Canada Pension Plan interest rate) commencing with the quarter ended September 30, 1969. The Act provides that the amount, by which the interest calculated at the revised rates exceeds the amount of interest calculated at the rate used in the actuarial report, may be used to reduce the amortization of actuarial deficiencies. During 1977-78, the additional interest amounted to $20,248,662 and was charged to interest on the public debt and credited to the annual amortization charge of actuarial deficiencies.

AUDITOR GENERAL OF CANADA
Ottawa, Ontario
July 10, 1978

THE HONOURABLE JEAN-JACQUES BLAIS, P.C., M.P.
SOLICITOR GENERAL OF CANADA
OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

I have examined the statement of transactions of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (Dependants) Pension Fund for the year ended March 31, 1978. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, the accompanying financial statement presents fairly the transactions of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (Dependants) Pension Fund for the year ended March 31, 1978 and the balance of the Fund as at that date, in accordance with accounting policy described in Note 2, applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENT MARCH 31, 1978

1. Statutory Authority

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police (Dependants) Pension Fund was established in the Consolidated Revenue Fund by section 55 of Part IV of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Continuation Act, R.S., c. R-10. Part IV of the Act provides for members of the Force, other than commissioned officers, appointed before March 1, 1949, to purchase certain survivorship benefits for their dependants by payment of specified contributions. The Fund is to be credited with these contributions together with interest computed quarterly on the balance to the credit of the Fund at the end of the preceding quarter, and charged with contributions withdrawn and pension benefits paid.

Section 56 of the Act directs the Minister of Finance to have an actuarial examination of the Fund made at least once every 5 years. If the actuarial valuation discloses a surplus, the Governor in Council may, by order, increase the benefit payments. If there is an actuarial deficiency, the Governor in Council may direct that there be credited to the Fund out of any unappropriated moneys in the Consolidated Revenue Fund such amount as may be required to re-establish solvency of the Fund.

2. Accounting Policy

Cash basis

All transactions of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (Dependants) Pension Fund are accounted for on a cash basis.

3. Supplementary Information

The most recent quinquennial actuarial examination was made as at March 31, 1976. The valuation disclosed an actuarial surplus of $1.4 million of which $770,000 was allocated to the payment of increased pension benefits, retroactive to January 1, 1977.
